Exclusion Requests at $55,000

Sleepy Hollow Hearing Will Be Held Tuesday

By LARRY GLAZIER

The total land value of petitions filed with the county to date asking exclusion from the proposed City of Sleepy Hollow is approximatley $55,000, according to the county assessor's office.

This figure represents more than 60 per cent of the amount needed to block an incorporation election within the 500-acre residential area in Orinda's northeast corner.

IN ORDER to completely cancel the election, the board of supervisors would have to receive exclusion petitions representing 51 per cent of the $196,000 total land value within the area, or about $88,000.

The assessor's office reported yesterday that most of the exclusion requests have been received since Tuesday and that slightly more than 100 of the requests have been filed with the county.

A public hearing on the proposed incorporation will be held by the supervisors at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Room 210 of the Hall of Records, Martinez.

AT A PUBLIC meeting September 30, some Sleepy Hollow residents indicated they planned to circulate protest petitions, and the assessor's office said some of the petitions may still be received before the hearing Tuesday.

Proponents of the incorporation have called for an election on the basis that incorporation is the only means by which to retain the "tranquil atmosphere" of the Hollow.

The incorporation attempt began early last summer when the Orinda Master Plan proposed by the county planning department revealed plans to widen and extend Lombardy and Washington Lanes in the area to through traffic.

AT PRESENT, Lombardy Lane is the only access road into and out of Sleepy Hollow.

Proponents have stated that the reconstruction of Lombardy Lane would force the removal of the picturesque poplars which line the street and would destroy part of the desired residential atmosphere within the area.

Some of the people opposing the incorporation reportedly have been releasing information to Hollow residents that an incorporation election would cost $8,000.

THE SLEEPY Hollow Committee for Incorporation, meanwhile, issued a statement indicating the cost would be somewhere in the vicinity of $600, based on reports from recently incorporated cities with populations approximating Sleepy Hollow's 1300 persons.

In the statement, the committee said the election costs will be paid by the county.

Fred Rust, chairman of the pro-incorporation group, added that state subventions are distributed on a per capita basis after a census has been taken, and the population then would include children as well as adults.

PUBLICITY RELEASES . . . more and more and more of them. If you get sick of these things, and want to chuck the whole business, perhaps The Sun sponsored publicity night Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Acalanes High School is for you. Among those who will be there to help (?) you out are Sun editors Dick Osborn, left, and Bob Rapida, right. It is to be hoped that they will be in a better frame of mind by then. —Sun photo by Bob Rush.

Sewer Use Charge One Step Closer

Connection Charge Also On Agenda

By NORMAN COLBY

Preparation of a "sewer use charge" ordinance and an accompanying connection charge ordinance has been started by Central Contra Costa Sanitary District attorney John Bohn. Their framework was to have been discussed briefly last night at a board meeting.

It is possible that the outlines of the ordinances may be ready in time for closer study by the district board, November 5, Bill Dalton, of the district, said this week.

At the same time in recent weeks, The Sun has received a number of complaints from local builders, especially apartment house owners, that connection fees are too high in the district, which was formed in 1946. The connection fee system has been in effect since 1952.

DISTRICT ENGINEER Gerry Horstkotte has told The Sun that the passage of a sewer use charge would result in a reduction of the disliked connection charge to about one third of its present average of about $150.

And more important, he added, it would cut the 'running' or operating tax to about 15 per cent of its present level, making it lighter on the property taxpayer who has fewer connections or none at all, and shifting the cost to the 'bigger' user.

"A fairer method," he declared.

And the 15 per cent retention of the running tax will insure that the owner using little or no water still pays for the improvement of his land values due to the presence of the district facilities.

THE CONNECTION charge, Horstkotte explained, is the amount the resident pays only ONCE to initiate use of his toilet, shower, laundry room, etc.

In the earlier days it was about $100 for a one bath two bedroom home, but the charge has gone up to about $150 for new users connecting the larger-types homes now popular.

The "use" charge is the amount the owner would have to pay each month to the district for the privilege of using his facilities.

It might range from 75 cents to $1.50 per month, Horstkotte said.

HORSTKOTTE was anxious to point out the advantages he sees in the new "use" charge and also to show that persons complaining about the high connection charge now levied are not making fair comparisons.

The complainers, he said, forget that this area is not the same as Oakland or Berkeley, and added, "If you want city services in a rural-turning-urban area, you must pay for them."

But he hastened to explain that apartment owners and other multiple owners who are unhappy when looking at the slightly lower connection fees in Berkeley and Oakland forget that use charges are also levied in Berkeley and Oakland.

He said, 'And in those big cities the people are not paying for new main lines. This was done years ago. But we are doing that and maintenance work with bond issue money, and the money from connections and annexation charges —and running taxes where necessary.

AND WHERE IT may cost $190 to annex one acre to the district in the Walnut Creek watershed and $277 in the Moraga and Orinda watershed, it costs $2000 to $5000 to annex one acre in other areas such as Menlo Park."

He continued, "Our connection charge, once legally established in 1952 was based on careful figuring of average daily flow and the number of homes. We had the help of our attorney then. John Nejedly. We used the fixture charge approach to determine just how much each owner's share of the future necessary plant should be.

"This included the treatment plant and main trunk lines of that time.

"There were 13,000 homes and 45,000 people in the district then; now it is 26,000 homes and 90,000 people, mostly due to increasing density, not annexations of new territories."

"There are many other areas which have our problems, and whose costs and charges are much the same — as in Santa Clara County and Marin County.

"YOU MIGHT think that the initial bond issue in the 1940's and the $9,800,000 bond issue in 1956 would be sufficient to take care of plant expansion, but that isn't true.

When a proposed bond issue failed in 1954, our 'running' expenses, which is just supposed to take care of the day to day operations, was jumped from 44.7 cents to 60 cents, and it stayed that way until the new bond issue passed. (Running taxes are 31 cents now).

"We had to use running expense money for our construction projects.

"You see, just because there doesn't happen to be enough money to improve facilities does not mean the state department of Public Health will suddenly say that's all right, forget about sanitary requirements. They are always checking, and we must stay up to par.

"WHEN THE bond issue passed the running tax dropped from 60 cents to 29 cents, and of course, the bond redemption tax rate was released, and went from 12.5 cents to 33.8 cents, and stood this year at 37 cents.

"We must do our job, somehow.

"Now for the use tax.

"As I said, it would cut the connection fee to about one third what it is now, and we are working on a method whereby the residents who have already paid their connection fees will have a grace period, perhaps up to 90 months. Only the people who did not pay a use charge in the very early days of the district and those who connect to the system after the ordinances are passed would begin paying a use charge immediately."

"Details are still being worked out on the break which the man already paid the connection fee will get.

"THERE WAS an 'out-of-pocket' payment era between 1950 and 1952 which has caused some debate. Should they be credited with full payment of a connection charge, although sometimes it was much less? The directors have discussed this.

"The introduction of a use charge will lower the connection fee, but it will probably result in raising the annexation fee to perhaps $500 for new areas in the district. But this seems fair enough.

"It's impossible to achieve perfect equality in every case, of course. We are looking to a good workable system where everyone is treated as fairly a possible."

"Now, until about 1966, we will have to supplement our bond issue funds with other money, and it has been annexation installation permits and connection charges until now.

"ACCORDING TO the Brown and Caldwell report, we will have to supplement the bond issue money each year by another $160,000 for 10 years, to complete our building and expansion program.

"With the reduction of the connection charge, the use charge, normally going for maintenance, will help pay those costs, although we may have to dip into the running expense money for the balance.

"Now the use charge, which won't apply for a long time to people who have already paid their connection charge, will assure the district that it will have a reliable, steady source of income, rather than the property tax, and so in a recession, the money will continue to come in for the needed improvements.

"And the district will have a greater diversity of income. We won't have to depend on new development.

"We will lose some revenue, at first, but the district will be better off in the long run."

Horstkotte said it's in the power of the board members to later increase the tax rate, but added that this is a matter of faith in their desire to hold the tax line wherever possible.

Principals Mull Special Meeting Of Grand Jury

John A. Nejedly, district attorney, conferred yesterday with Contra Costa Grand Jury Foreman John B. Dunlap whether the grand jury would hold a special session to consider the firing of Mrs. Ruth Rathke, by Sheriff Walter F. Young.

The discussion between Nejedly and Dunlap followed on the heels of a closed door session between Chief Assistant State Attorney General Charles O'Brien and Nejedly in Nejedly's Martinez office.

MRS. RATHKE, who had been chief of the sheriff's civil division was fired by Young on six counts (see separate story). She will appear in court Tuesday along with Young. Young has been served with a writ of mandate by Mrs. Rathke demanding to show cause why she should not be reinstated to her former position.

The meeting between O'Brien and Nejedly was brought about by State Attorney General Stanley Mosk.

Mosk said that Mrs. Rathke's firing was "reprisal" for her testimony to both the attorney general's office and the Contra Costa Grand Jury during the recent investigation into vice and gambling in the county by both agencies.

Meanwhile, Robert Condon, attorney for Mrs. Rathke, answered Nejedly's opinion on the legality of Sheriff Walter F. Young's keeping of civil fees and mileage. Condon wrote:

"THERE IS NO single statute, ordinance or any law with which I am acquainted which allows the sheriff of Contra Costa County to pocket fees and mileage paid to him by private litigants for the service of civil papers.

"In your letter, you afford me the opportunity to go to the Grand Jury or to bring the matter to the attention of the Board of Supervisors. You are the chief law enforcement officer of the county. If you can't give the sheriff an opinion or the Board of Supervisors an opinion on the legality of Sheriff Young's side income, then I suggest you refer the matter to the attorney general.

"I am certain the attorney general can and will render an opinion pointing out that Sheriff Young has no right to take money from private individuals for doing a duty which the law requires him to do.

"YOUR OFFICE seems to be on quite firm ground in arresting card parlor players after curfew and patrons in a tavern who are shooting dice for a drink. In a matter which involves $10,000 to $15,000 in the county treasury or in the sheriff's pocket, I do not believe that your casual answer and off the shoulder shrug meets the problem," Condon stated.

In answer to Condon's missive, Nejedly issued a "no comment" statement, but indicated he had given his final opinion on the matter.

He said that the grand jury has the problem of fees under study and it would be included with the grand jury's regular business during the year.

Rathke Firing Hearings Slated

The Contra Costa County Civil Service Commission Tuesday night set Thursday for hearing of Mrs. Ruth Rathke's appeal from her dismissal as chief civil deputy in the office of Sheriff Walter F. Young.

No action was taken by the commission on a request from Mrs. Rathke asking for a bill of particulars, specifying dates, places and persons concerned with the charges brought against her by Young.

Chairman Howard Lauritzen said the request would be considered at the hearing on Thursday.

Young said Mrs. Rathke was dismissed for insubordination, absence without leave, neglect of duty, violation of civil service regulations and failure to obey orders of the department and/or superiors.

Miramonte Students Will Vote On Code of Conduct

The students of Mriamonte High School were scheduled to vote at noon today to determine whether or not they will officially adopt a "Teen-Age Code of Conduct," drawn up by a faculty-paranet-student committee.

If the code is approved, Miramonte will be one of the first high schools in the Bay Area to have an official list of standards. The Palo Alto district has such a code, and Berkeley High School has been trying to have one adopted for some time, but has been unsuccessful.

IN STUDIES FOR the proposed Miramonte code, the information garnered during Berkeley's attemps was used to a great extent.

The code's history dates back to the beginning of the 1958-59 school year when a parents' committee of the Miramonte Mothers' Club was formed.

Members of the committee, chaired by Mrs. A. E. Syverud, held a series of meetings with nearly 50 students attending one or more of the meetings.

BELA CLARK of the juvenile control division of the sheriff's department met with the group in an attempt to draft the code of conduct.

Mrs. Syverud said the object of the code "is to set a pattern that the majority of teen-agers have agreed should be their code of behavior. It is not how parents should rear their children in their homes, but a guide for teen-agers in relation to others.

"It does not substitute for family-made rules, but should stimulate discussion and be a springboard from which family agreements may be reached."

THE CODE, ALREADY approved by the Miramonte student council, was read to the student body by its president Monday, and all students received copies of the code draft Tuesday.

As a preamble, the code reads: "As we approach adulthood we want to express opr own convictions. The code of conduct which follows is recommended to aid all of us in our quest for maturity as we progress through the years of high school, and to guide us in creating our own principles."

Sup-topics of the code include parent-teen-age relationships, parties, driving, drinking and smoking.

The final line of the code says: "The observation of this code will improve unfavorable and unjustified reputation all teen-agers have gained through the carelessness of a very few."

Sun's Publicity Session Slated For Acalanes

Being a publicity chairman can be a very rewarding job or it can become an almost unbearable chore.

The success or failure of a publicity chairman lies in whether he or she really knows what publicity is all about.

As a public service, The Sun will conduct a workshop on publicity Tuesday night at Acalanes High School in the cafeteria. The public is invited, but in particular, publicity chairmen are urged to attend.

The purpose of the workshop is to help iron out any difficulties publicity chairmen and presidents of organizations may have regarding publicity and public relations.

Brief outlines will be furnished all attending showing the proper presentation of copy, some general hints on style and preparation of material, and above all, how to get your material presented in the way you want it, when you want it.

"We fully realize the difficult task that faces most publicity chairmen and most organizations who depend on mass media such as newspapers to acquaint the public with their functions," commented Sun Publisher Herman Silverman.

"With this in mind we have planned this meeting to see if members of our staff can't share some of their know-how with those who face the task of preparing material during the coming year," he concluded.

GOP Women Will Hear Talk

The Orinda Republican Women's Club will hold their monthly program meeting at the Orinda Community Church Thursday at 10 a.m.

World traveler and lecturer, Mrs. Robert Sibley, will speak on "Glimpses Behind the Iron Curtain."

MRS. SIBLEY has already established herself as a fascinating speaker in Orinda by her lecture at the Community Church last year.

All Republican ladies are most cordially invited to attend this outstanding program.

Child care will be provided during the meeting by a club member, Mrs. Helene Klement, at her home at 10 Valley View Road (off Miner Road).

New Safeway Contractor

Construction of a $250,000 building to be leased to Safeway Stores, Inc. at Camino Sobrante and Orinda Way, Orinda Village, should begin within a few days, according to Jack Snow, lessor and property owner.

He said he has chosen a contractor for the job from several bidders, and expects the work will be completed within a year. He did not name the contractor.

Preparations and detail preliminaries have already been completed, and he has been conferring with Safeway officials this week.

The real property is valued at $113,000. The building will have about 16,800 square feet of interior space, and there will be room for 149 parking spaces outside.

Wheel Toys Are Needed Now

The Christmas Bureau needs help now in planning for a happier Christmas for needy families in our community.

"Our immediate need is for repairable wheel toys," according to Mrs. James Morris of Lafayette, this year's chairman.

Moragans Discussing New Plan for Zoning Action

Residents of the Moraga area met as The Sun went to press last night to discuss the preparation of a plan for further action concerning the precise zoning plan for the 8700-acre area.

The meeting, held in the Moraga School, was sponsored by the Moraga Valley Community Club and every home and business in Moraga and adjacent areas was urged to have at least one representative in attendance.

LAST WEEK about 150 Moraga residents treked to Martinez to appear before the county planning commission to appeal the proposed precise zoning on the basis that they do not want any general commercial, controlled manufacturing or administrative office zoning for the area.

But the county planners voted 6-1 to zone all of the area except for a 90-acre strip adjacent to residential zoning in accordance with the plan submitted by the county planning department staff.

The 90-acre strip, originally recommended for additional controlled manufacturing zoning, was zoned for agriculture by the commission's action.

COUNTY PLANNING staff members and the commissioners contended the proposal for precise zoning was closely allied to the general plan for Moraga, adopted by the commission in May, 1958.

In a letter to James Carey, president of the community club, Rex A. Collings Jr., who officially represented the area at the commission hearing, reported on the outcome of the hearing.

His letter, distributed to all Moraga area residents, said in part:

"THE RESULTS clearly indicated that Moraga as a united community is a powerful force. This was not an effort by any one segment such as Larch-Camino Pablo, or Orchard Dell, or Rutherford Park, or Rheem, or Rheem Glen or the Rheem merchants. It was an efrort by all Moraga.

"We will have further opportunities to argue our position to the county board of supervisors in the near future. We as a community should decide now what course to follow. It will mean investing a lot of time and abilities, but I hope the decision will be to fight to keep Moraga residential."

Russell Griffith, principal county planner, said this week that it will take about three weeks before the precise zoning map of the Moraga area is completed.

MEMBERS OF the planning commission then will be required to grant official adoption of the plan before it goes to the board of supervisors as a recommendation.

Griffith reported the supervisors must have at least one public hearing on the matter before it becomes law, and the first hearing may be sometime in December or early January.

In answer to Collings' charge that the adoption of precise zoning wthout having the general plan adopted by the board of supervisors, Griffith said that state law allows the zoning adoption without a general plan.

Griffith added that it is the intention of the planning department to have the entire county master plan adopted by the supervisors at the same time.

Partridge Named Bank's Manager

The appointment today of C. Robert Partridge as assistant vice president and manager, Orinda office, Central Valley National Bank, was announced by Charles P. Partridge, chairman of the board and president.

A graduate of the University of Washington school of banking, and in banking for 14 years, Partridge will assume his new duties Monday.

Bob Partridge, his wife Madeleine and their six children presently reside in Lafayette and are building a new home on Camino Sobrante, Orinda.

Mary Rupp Named Librarian Here

Miss Mary Rupp of the Contra Costa County Library staff has been assigned as Orinda Branch Librarian while Mrs. Sara Malinowsky is on leave of absence working for her professional library credentials at the University of California School of Librarianship.

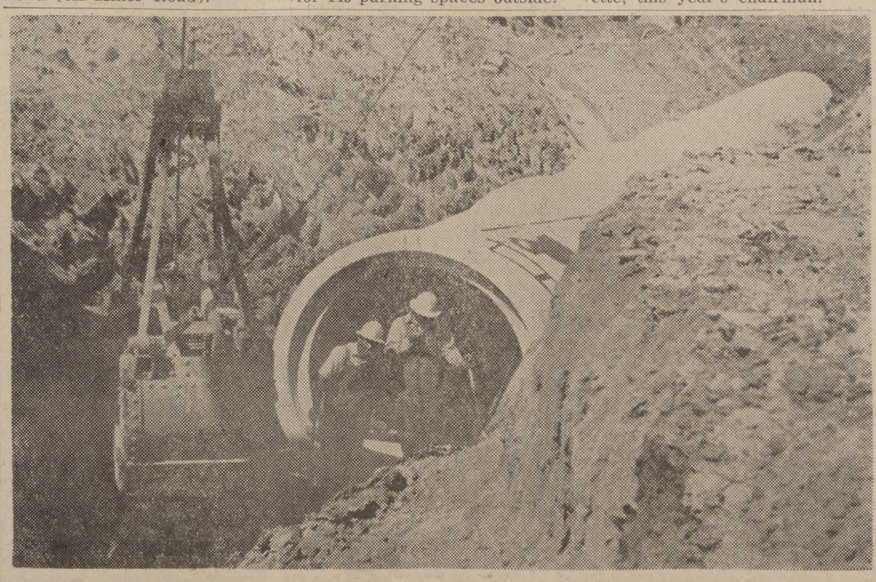

Mrs. Bertha D. Hellum, county librarian said Miss Rupp has been one of the two bokmobile librarians in the county library system, in charge of mobile library service in the western area of the county since June 1958.

Combat Training Over for Powell

Marine Pvt. David W. Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Powell of 48 Rheem Boulevard finished four weeks of individual combat training today at the Marine Corps Base at Camp Pendleton.

The course includes the latest infantry tactics, first aid, demolitions, field fortifications and advanced schooling on weapons.

Trainees learn that all Marines are basically infantrymen, whether they serve as cooks, typists, truck drivers, or with aviation units.

HERE IT COMES! This is the extension of a giant sewer pipe which will be installed by the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District in downtown Walnut Creek after the bypass is completed. Central County Accidents Injure Three Residents

Auto mishaps injured three residents of Central Contra Costa this week, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Anne W. Stegman, 617 Center Street, Walnut Creek, was taken by ambulance to Kaiser Hospital when her car overturned. She was eastbound on St. Mary's Road near Glenside Drive when the accident occurred, the highway patrol reported.

In a second accident, Charles A. Peays, 115 Camille Court, Danville, was stopped to make a turn when his car was hit by an auto driven by Marcy Dowling, 385 Hermosa Court, Lafayette.

Peays' car then hit the auto of Gerald R. Baxter of Livermore. The two local residents suffered minor injuries, according to investigating officers.

Babysitter is Cause of Fire

Minor damage resulted, Sunday, when a deep fry left unattended by a baby sitter caused a kitchen fire in the home of Glenn Seaborg, 1154 Glen Road, Lafayette. The cabinets above the range were scorched.

Orinda AFS Chapter Has Open House Monday Night

The Orinda chapter of the American Field Service is planning an open house in the cafeteria at Miramonte High School on Monday evening at 8 p.m. All interested persons are invited.

Mrs. T. F. Mika, president, is in charge of the program and will introduce the exchange students who are attending Miramonte High School this year.

They are Sri Widiate Saebani from Java and Enrique Lopez-Bruno from Spain. She will also present Dave Dail, who spent last summer in West Germany.

Widi, as she is called, will dance ni her native costume. Widi has studied the Javanese dance since she was six years old and her costume and make-up are so elaborate that preparation takes over one-half hour.

An opportunity will be given to meet and talk to Enrique. Miramonte students are delighted this year to have a real Spaniard in matador costume act as mascot to the "Matadors" at the football games.

DAVE DAIL will tell of his summer in West Germany under the American Field Service International Scholarship program. Dave went to Europe in June and returned in ime for school this fall.

Bob Newman, Miramonte's other ambassador of good will, is now in Leco, Italy. His parents, the Frank C. Newmans, report that Bob joined his "family" in Lecco several weeks ago and started school on October 1.

Before that the A.F.S. group had spent 10 days in Milan and Turin, for briefing sessions, language practice and had done much touring including a Matterhorn trip and three days in the Fiat factories.

Bob (who has become "Berto" for his Italian stay) covers a lot of ground these days—very fast—by motor scooter, perched behind his speed-loving Italian brother. He feels the Italian people are treating him in a most wonderful way.

Mrs. A. D. Henry, assisted by Mrs. Abe R. Doty, is in charge of the social hour following the program. They have asked Mrs Sigurd Groennings and Mrs. Mika to pour.

Applications are now being taken from families who would like to be host family to a student from abroad next year. Applications are available at Miramonte High School or from Mrs. James E. Lindsay, CLifford 4-3560.

THE LINDSAYS were the host family for Brigitt Hageli of Switzerland last year and will be glad to answer questions concerning the program.

The annual drive for funds by the AFC Club of Miramonte High School will be carried on Halloween weekend by the students. This money goes to help defray the expenses of the foreign students coming here next year and to assist the Miramonte students selected to go abroad.

Orinda residents are asked to greet warmly these youthful solicitors who are working to assist international understanding and good will. Sue Lindsay is club president.

FINAL PLANS for qualifying science test to be given to 100 Miramonte High School students next Friday morning are being discussed by these members of the staff recruitment committee of the Miramonte Science Seminar. From left to right, M. W. Loveland, Walter Haefele, Dr. Stanley Thompson and Dr. Chester O'Konski, 'all scientists who will participate in the program and local parents as well.

People and the Issues Will Be Heard By Public

The Lafayette incorporaton campaign will reach fever pitch Wednesday night at a candidates' meeting-panel discussion to be held at 8 o'clock in the Acalanes High School gymnasium.

A compact, 2½-hour program has been arranged for the evening, according to Arthur L. Robson, president of the Lafayette Junior Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the event, and there will be plenty of oportunity provided for the answering of all questions concerning incorporation.

LAFAYETTE VOTERS will go to the polls a week fro Tuesday — October 27 — to determine whether or not the town will be incorporated.

The event will mark the first opportuniy the public has had to meet many of the 20 town council candidates, Robson said.

Voters will have to vote for five councilmen, in addition to casting a "yes" or "no" vote on the incorporation issue, and if incorporation is successful the five candidates with the greatest number of votes will sit on the first town council.

THE FIRST 10 candidates, alphabetically, from Philip H. Angell Jr. through L. Campbell MacPhail, will present their talks at the opening of the meeting.

Robson said each council hopeful will have a three minute limit and one minute will be allowed for the candidate to get to the rostrum while the previous person sits down.

Introductions of the candidates will be handled by Robson and Herman Silverman, publisher of The Sun. The Jaycees and The Sun are co-sponsoring the event.

FOLLOWING MACPHAIL'S presentation, there will be a 10-minute question and answer period, with written questions being chosen and answered by the first 10 candidates.

To assure that each candidate will use only his allotted time, Robson added, a yellow light will flash at the end of two minutes 30 seconds, a red ight at the end of 2 minutes 45 seconds and a buzzer will ring at the end of the three minutes.

The four-part panel discussion, to be moderated by Everett (Bud) Fuller of the Jaycees, will follow the question period.

ACCORDING TO Robson, each of the four panelists will have 10 minutes in which to present his topic. The panelists and their topics, in order of appearance, are:

Ned Robinson, opposition; Theron Nelson, self-government; Charles Baake Jr., services; and William Zion, finances.

The discussion will be followed by another 10-minute question and answer period, this time directed at the panelists.

Final portion of the meeting will cover presentations by the last 10 candidates, Henri Meiller through ion, and the last question period.

Sleepy Hollow Parents Holding Annual Carnival

The Sleepy Hollow Parents' Club's annual carnival will be held tomorrow on the school grounds.

Banners of the school's colors—red and white—will start flying at 11 o'clock and go down at 4 p.m. This is the Parents' Club's one big money raising event for the year. All Orinda is welcome — Mom, Dad, brothers, sisters and friends.

ACCORDING TO carnival co-chairmen, Mrs. William Howe and Mr. Bruce Howard, there will be many new attractions this year, such as movies, a merry-go round and a hay ride with real live horses. Old favorites, including the fireengine ride and the make up booth, will also be there.

Unique will be the Chinese weight lifting event—a real test of skill to see who can lift the heaviest object with choo sticks!

Plenty of food and drinks will take cahe of Saturday's lunch. There will be lots of prizes—winners will receive prizes or tickets which they can save up for bigger prizes.

EACH CLASS WILL have a separate booth staffed by the children themselves.

Those in charge of booths are Mesdames oJhn O'hara, Marshall Moran, make up booth; Charles Reid, merry-go-round; Manford Funsten, hammering spikes; Cecil Cantrill, fire truck ride; Robert Walpole, fish pool; Robert Dalton, fun house; H. Zacharias, S. Nightengale, country store; David Bray, gold fish game.

Also Robert Coyle, hay ride; William Platt, record breaking; Heber Smith, cup cakes and popsickles; Vernon Lorch, dart game; H. Clemmons, movies; Jim Miller, coke, and Calvert Bowles, miniature golf; Bill Broderick, clown with balloons; I. Grundell, baseball throw; Albert Kessler, tick-tack-toe; Roy Pagnello Chinese weight lifting; O. VanSickle, hot dogs and coffee; Kenneth Renwick, big game shoot; Stanley Majka, bowling alley.

Cub Pack Holds 1st Fall Meeting

Orinda Cub Scout Pack 225 conducted its first pack meeting of the current school year recently.

Three Cubs received the Arrow of Light award and were taken into Scout Troops. They were, Martin Block and Paul Yriberri, Troop 237, and Scott Yerrick, Troop 244.

The following boys have reached the age of 10½, have earned their Lion awards and went into a Webelos den where they will study for their Tenderfoot badge in Boy Scouting: Tyler Anedrsen, Drew Fernsten, Tom Gardner and Hal Smith.

Bobcats, Pat Garrehy, Ricky Talbot and Gary Mendenhall were welcomed into the Pack, David Bennett as a transfer.

Awards were presented to the following boys:

Wolf, Rod Jenks, Bobby Brain; Bear, Peter Heckathorn; and Lion, Tyler Andersen, Hal Smith.

Service stars were received by the following:

Vote Sample Being Taken

Tabulations of what has been called the first random survey of residents' attitudes toward Lafayette incorporation will be made public at Wednesday night's candidates' meeting-panel discussion.

The survey is being conducted by Gavin High, a salesman of 1121 Laurel Drive, who is one of the 20 candidates for the first town council.

LOCAL VOTERS will cast their ballots on the incorporation issue October 27.

High said he selected 20 people who are not active for or against incorporation and asked them to pass out 10 of the questionnaires to local residents in various geographical areas.

The questionnaire contains 12 questions, dealing basically with whether the resident favors incorporation and if so, why; what the people would desire from incorporation; and, in dollars, what they would be willing to pay for incorporation.

EACH QUESTIONNAIRE includes a cover letter signed by High, urging the people to attend local meetings concerning incorporation, to determine what the issues are and to vote next week.

Answers to the questions will be sent anonymously to High in pre-addressed, postage paid envelopes, and the tabulation results will be made public through newspapers and local groups for and against the proposed incorporation.

Qualifications Test For Science Seminar Planned

Friday morning, October 23, 100 Miramonte students will take a two and one-half hour science test to determine which of these students will be participating in the Miramonte Science Seminar.

These 100 students were chosen by Robert Campbell, chairman of the Miramonte science department, on the basis of school records, science grades and interest in science.

FROM THIS GROUP approximately 25 students will be selected as participants in this science program.

This test will be administered and corrected by Jacob Shapiro of the Berg Foundation. The test is to be given on the morning of October 23 between 9 and 11:30 o'clock at Miramonte High School. Shapiro expects to have these corrected by early afternoon.

As soon as these tests are scored and the results are available Shapiro together with the selections committee of the Miramonte Science Seminar will select the outstanding science students from Miramonte.

THE MEMBERS of this committee who wil be working with Shapiro are Dr. Chester O'Konski, professor of chemistry at the University of California; Dr. Geoffrey Chew, professor of physics at University of California; Stanley Thompson, radiation laboratory; and Robert Campbell, chairman of Miramonte science department.

The Miramonte Science Seminar is a program that offers to the outstanding Miramonte High School science students an opportunity o study under scientists, engineers and doctors from Orinda and nearby communities.

It is one of many similar programs throughout the United States that has been set up with the cooperation of the Berg Foundation and local residents.

SHAPIRO WILL MEET with scientists of Orinda and area communities on Friday night at Miramonte High at 7:30 p.m. Saturday morning, October 24, he will meet with the students who have been selected for the program and their parents at 9 a.m. at th high school.

At these two meetings Shapiro will answer all questions and discuss the program in detail.

THE RECRUITMENT committee of the Miramonte Science Seminar has been successful in attracting numerous outstanding scientists to this program.

The members of this committee are Walter Haefele, M. H. Loveland, Rudolf Grah, Stanley Thompson, Chester O'Konski and Dr. Slattery, all of Orinda.

Jean Bodfish Is Honor Recipient

Miss Jean Bodfish, 611 Miner Road, has received recognition for outstanding academic achievement at Wellesley College Wellesley, Mass.

Honors were announced recently at the convocation marking the start of Wellesley's 85th year.

Conant Report Will Be Subject Of Parent Meet

The Conant report on "The American High School Today" will be the subject for discussion at Monday's meeting of the Miramonte High School Parents' Club Committee on School and Community Welfare.

Mrs. Frank Newman is chairman for the afternoon program and will be assisted by Mrs. John Gilbert and Mrs. Bernard Fries in the presentation.

ALL MOTHERS OF Miramonte students are cordially invited to attend, according to Mrs. Richard Leland, chairman. The meeting will be held at Mrs. Newman's home, 53 Acacia Drive.

Refreshments will be served at 12:30 under the direction of Mrs. Harold Hafner.

Mrs. William Gilmore, dance chairman, has stated that this group has worked in conjunction with the Orinda Country Club in planning a series of dances for Orinda high school students.

The first dance will be held tonight, with a Christmas Ball planned for December 23.

Assisting Mrs. Gilmore on the dance committee are Mesdames Spencer Archer, Bruce Howard and John Reilly Jr.

Philibosian Ends Insurance Course Is Given Honor

Special insurance industry recognition has been accorded to Philip M. Philibosian, 220 camino Sobrante, division manager for the Thomas C. Peek agency of Prudential Insurance Company.

Philibosian has been granted the coveted Chartered Life Underwriter (CLU) designation, following completion of a five-part program given by the American College of Life Underwriters.

INCLUDED IN THE advanced professional insurance studies are courses in economics, public law, taxation, business insurance, investments, corporation finance and life insurance procedures.

A native of Michigan, Philibosian was born in Detroit and attended San Diego, Calif. public schools. He is a graduate of Fresno State College. During World War II he served with the U.S. Air Corps.

He joined Prudential in 1953 as a special agent in this area and has been one of the company's leading life underwriters since that.time, according to his manager, Thomas C. Peek.

THREE YEARS AGO he was advanced to division manager for the Peek agency. Prior to that he had earned life membership in the insurance industry's Million Dollar Round Table by selling more than $1,000,000 of insurance for three years in a row.

Commendation Given To Major Coggins

Major Clyde A. Coggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Coggins, 19 Los Dedos, received the Alaska Certificate of Achievement in recognition of outstanding performance of duty as battle group supply officer with the US Army in Alaska during the period June 20, 1957 to June 15, 1959.

WHAT'S DOING
Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

This is a "switchboard on wheels"—a complete telephone central office built right into a big truck trailer. Its job is to help phone people keep vital calls going through during emergencies. You see, we can send these switchboards on wheels wherever they're needed and hook them up to hundreds of phone lines in a matter of hours. Then operators work right from these trailers, keeping important calls going—fire, police, hospital, civil defense, and such. It's one way we work to keep phone service ready when it's needed most.

Folk-singer Burl Ives hosts the Bell Telephone Hour on Oct. 23 with guest stars Johnny Cash, Dolores Gray, Art Lund, Patrice Munsel, Edie Adams, Brian Sullivan, and the American Ballet Theatre. They're all "going Western" with old-time music hall favorites, Broadway hits, and even opera. Hope you'll tune in KRON - Channel 4 at 8:30 p.m. and enjoy the fun. Pacific Telephone

Most of $200,000 Bonds Will Benefit Del Valle

Acalanes High School District trustees this week approved sale of $200,000 in bonds for use in district construction during 1959-60.

Most of the money will be spent at Del Valle High in Tice Valley.

The $200,000 comes from an original $3.25 million authorized by voters in 1956. Expenditure of the $200,000 will leave $750,000 of the original authorization unsold.

In other action trustees called for bids for an estimated $12,000 for equipping district schools with language laboratory equipment for use in foreign language instruction. The call follows a study by district foreign language teachers of language laboratory instruction techniques.

The $12,000 represents a $6000 investment by the district matched by $6000 of federal funds supplied through the National Defense Education Act.

They called for bids for rental of school facilities by church groups.

And they approved a list of district substitute teachers and an inter-district attendance agreement.

Complete Park Program Urged by Businessman

"If we are to compete with other counties for business, industry and for people, we must provide a complete, well-rounded, well-managed park and recreation program."

Reginald H. Biggs, Bay Area business leader, said this at the Contra Costa Park and Recreation Council's annual dinner at the Diablo Country Club last week.

"Today we have competition from all over. A fine park and recreation system is as much of an asset to communities looking for increased industrial expansion as was convenient rail and water transportation 100 years ago," said Biggs.

"BECAUSE OF the mobility of workers, business and industry are finding that their ability to hold and secure competent workmen is dependent upon those plus factors of cultural, educational and recreational opportunities that a city or county can provide."

Biggs emphasized that growth is the reason we need more recreational facilities. He said that demographers predict an increase in population in Contra Costa County from its present 382,000 to 1,100,000 in 1990, from slightly over 10 per cent of the Bay Area's people to 15 per cent.

"Playing ball on vacant lots is no more, or football in wheatfields, as in my childhood days in Richmond," Biggs said. "The American people will spend $41 billion this year in their leisure-time pursuits of recreation—$2.1 billion on boating alone.

"This is in itself big business and Contra Costa County with its miles of shoreline can expect with a dynamic well-planned small boat harbor development, to capitalize on the present interest in boating."

BIGGS CONGRATULATED the County Board of Supervisors on the action they have taken in making plans for the hiring of a park director to push forward the program of land acquisition and development.

He congratulated the Park and Recreation Council for its efforts in behalf of parks in the county.

Honored guest at the council's dinner was Ralfe Miller of Lafayette, recently retired chairman of the County Park Commission.

Miller served for five years as the Commission's first chairman and led the efforts to establish a park system in Contra Costa County.

HE TOLD THE council: "We have reached the point where implementation is needed. The next step is financing. I believe it requires a program that depends on a 'pay as you use' approach, which means bonds. I believe the board of supervisors will go along with such a program."

County Supervisor Tom Coll of Concord paid tribute to Miller's work and to the council. "The board of supervisors is very much behind the park program and is providing a park director to give it representation on the county level. I hope we can soon start moving forward with acquisition," Coll said.

County Small Craft Harbors Committee Chairman Vernon Patterson of Lafayette told the council of the great demands for boating facilities in the county.

He said that there are already 11,000 boats in Contra Costa County and the number is rapidly growing.

Park Council officers elected for the coming year are William Drake, Canyon, president; William Penn Mott Jr., Orinda; Mrs. B. L. Winslow, Orinda; Alvin A. Burton, Walnut Creek; Jerome Kohl, Kensington, and Dr. H. G. Loewenstein, Pittsburg, vice president.

MRS. F. J. Clune, Walnut Creek, secretary, and Edward W. Koskinen, Concord, treasurer.

Directors were also elected from throughout thecounty.

Over 70 persons attended the dinner and meeting. Mott was master of ceremonies. Mrs. B. L. Winslow was chairman of the dinner arrangements.

Adult Center Offers Light Opera 'Shop'

Several new classes will be offered during the fall term at the Acalanes Adult Center of the Acalanes Adult Center of the Acalanes High School District.

A light-opera workshop is being conducted at Las Lomas High School on Thursday nights by James Schwartz, Las Lomas High School music instructor.

Starting Thursday, a course in the use of the braille typewriter for the blind will be taught by Nick Medina, special education instructor for the Walnut Creek School District.

Two new offerings by the Acalanes Adult Center are advanced shorthand at Los Lomas High School on Wednesday night and preparation for childbirth on Thursday nights at Las Lomas High School.

For further information regarding the adult program, call Acalanes Adult Center.

Halleck to Local Dinner

Congressman Charles Halleck, minority leader of the House of Representatives, has accepted the invitation to be the main speaker at the $25 a plate dinner sponsored by the Contra Costa County Republican Party on November 5 at the Concord Inn.

Sam Conti is general chairman of the affair.

This will be Halleck's only Northern California appearance.

The GOP fund raising dinner will host Congressman and Mrs. John Baldwin.

Both Congressman Halleck and Congressman Baldwin will report on the last session of Congress. Over 400 people are expected to attend the dinner.

Local Men Hunt Subs, Test Guns, Weekends

Several Contra Costa men will be among the 500 Bay Area Naval Reservists who will take part in a dress rehearsal of their combat assignments this weekend.

They are members of the 12th Naval District Reserve Destroyer Escort Division who will sail their ships to Monterey for two days of anti-submarine warfare and gunnery practice.

As members of the Selected Reserve each man carries pre-cut orders assigning him to a specific ship in the event of general mobilization.

The local men are as follows: Gerald Russon, Phillip Corvinus, Carl Schaeffer and David Rogers of Walnut Creek.

Ray Bunten and James Drake of Lafayette.

Norman Glenn, John Williams and Robert Nanney of Concord.

HERBERT Holthoff of Orinda; Glen Parham of Moraga; Earl Brizee of Alamo and Dan Winterbauer of Pleasant Hill.

One weekend each month these reservists drill aboard "their" ships, and each man has his own bunk and locker aboard "his" ship.

The specific wartime duty of these ships and crews is to seek out and destroy enemy submarines.

While each ship has an active duty crew of two officers and enlisted men aboard as shipkeepers, the remainder of their wartime complements are composed of these drill-pay reservists.

THE FOUR ships in the 12th naval district assigned to this program are the destroyer escorts Alvin C. Cockrell, Walton, Naifeh and the destroyer Laws.

The Cockrell, which is stationed at the East Bay Naval Reserve Training Center, Alameda, is commanded by Comdr. Henry Steinbach of 1067 Glen Road, Lafayette.

The Walton, stationed at Treasure Island, is commanded by Comdr. William Egan, 2157 Ward Drive, Walnut Creek.

The reserve crews of both the Cockrell and Walton are composed from volunteers from surface divisions at the Alameda training center.

Crews of the Laws and Naifeh, which are stationed at Treasure Island, are made of men from the Treasure Island Naval Reserve Training Center.

WHILE IN MONTEREY the crews of the Cockrell, Walton and Laws will conduct anti-submarine warfare drills on the attack trainer at the Navy's post-graduate school there.

On the return trip Sunday the gun crews of the five inch and 40 mm cannons will engage in gunnery practice.

Two-Act Comdy Is Diablo Valley College Offering

"Light Up the Sky," a two-act comedy by Moss Hart, under the direction of Harvey Berman, will be presented at 8:30 p.m., November 5, 6, 7 and November 12, 13, 14 at the Viking Theatre, Diablo Valley College.

The farce, presented by Hart on the Broadway stage in 1948, portrays the chaos, humor and anxiety encountered opening night of a stage production.

Members of the Viking Theatre cast include Sue Aldrich, Martin Benson, Bill Brodrick, Kay Conrad, Eric Johnson, Ron Kruse, Sue Leach, Dick Teller, Don Tuche and Jim Donham.

Dave Anderson, Robin Baker, Bill Booth, Linda Ferrira, Elsie Harris, Jack Hurley and Dexter Lewis are on the production staff.

Leonard Lanfranco and Priscilla Myers are production coordinators.

Tickets may be purchased at the Student Book Store or Student Council office. Admission is 75 cents with student body card and $1.25 without card.

60 Million Teens in '70, Realtors Told

"We will have an estimated 60 million teenagers in 1970 so that we must begin to take a look at our sociological picture to absorb this increase in community, youth and social planning."

Norris Nash of Berkeley said this to an overflow audience at the United Crusade rally of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board breakfast meeting at the Walnut Bowl. Sherman Hathaway was program chairman.

Nash's address entitled "Industry Has Something To Think About" stressed that economic and social standards which face us nationally will have to change in order to hadle the population growth.

In the past 50 years there has been an 85 per cent increase in metropolitan areas.

"We have to consider in the next ten years the number of persons over 65 and under 20 years of age will double and there will be 60 million teenagers. This will have a great effect on how we shape our future and much more important is how we handle the sociological side of the picture.

"Because of all these factors we must give consideration to the situation that surrounds us. Industry has come to the conclusion that where there is a good climate there are happy and healthy employees."

The Best Things In Life Aren't Always Free...

About the only free items left these days anywhere are air and water at gas stations, but this trio to the gas station for water is going to end up costing about $2000.

Vernon Vanderburg, 31 Vivian Drive, pulled into a service station to get some water for his car, but the car door on his side opened and he fell out.

The car kept going and hit a gas pump — Then the trouble started.

The pump caught fire.

Station attendants almost put it out with their extinguishers but the flames flared up again.

Mt. Diablo and Central Fire District trucks came to finish the job.

Traffic at the site, the Associated station at Contra Costa Highway and Doray Drive, clustered to view the scene.

Station operator O. W. Asay estimated damage at more than $2000.

Flustered Vanderburg, after giving his report to the State Highway Patrol, got back in his undamaged car and drove away. Without his radiator water.

Picture Plus Miller Nets A Cool $8.75

E. H. Miller, 2336 Norton Drive, became The Sun's Lucky Commuter and took $8.75 in prizes with him.

Miller was presented a check for $5 and given a year's subscription to The Sun valued at $3.75.

Miller is one of many commuters to win The Sun's prize for being a Lucky Commuter.

Look in The Sun next week for a Lucky Commuter picture—who knows—it may be you.

'You May Quote Me' Says Gal Praising Sun

Bernice Collier of Concord was overjoyed with the results obtained from The Sun's classified section, when she advertised clothing for sale.

She said, "You may quote me in saying, I have NEVER had better results from an ad. . . ."

Her experience is a typical one for most Sun classified customers, including Mrs. J. Benker of 106 Galen Drive, Walnut Creek, who sold her 9 cubic foot refrigerator and also a bedroom set.

And when Mrs. Jean Jacobsen of 1278 Carmel Court, Walnut Creek, said in her ad, "complete household must go—everything!" —that's just what happened!

The ad placed by each classified customer goes automatically into the Sun Shopping News on Wednesday and into the Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun and Orinda Sun on Friday.

This is a 5-in-1 treatment for only one single reasonable price. You can run 14 words for only $1.60.

Place your Sun ad today! An ad placed by Tuesday at 10 a.m. is in time for that week.

No matter what it is you are offering or want, your telephone is going to get a workout!

Wood Being Sold For Church Cause

In order to raise funds for scouting and for their group's treasury, members of the Aronic Priesthood of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints are sponsoring a sale of fireplace wood, with delivery available tomorrow and October 24.

Wood may be ordered at a nominal cost in cord, half-cord or quarter cord lots.

Tape Recorders Approved for Use by Sheriff

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday approved the use of automatic magnetic taperecorders by sheriff's deputies.

The board stated the use of the recorders will speed the processing of crime reports and increase the time which Contra Costa County sheriff's deputies can devote to patrol duties.

The board authorized employment of three typist-clerks to operate equipment which will automatically record reports, telephoned to Sheriff Walter F. Young's Martinez office by deputies from the scene of crimes under investigation.

Undersheriff Harry D. Ramsay said the reports will be transscribed immediately, 24 hours daily, including weekends, by central office personnel. Priority will be given to felony reports in periods of heavy activity, he added.

The new system, advocated by Young when he took office last January, will eliminate the time deputies now spend typing reports, Undersheriff Ramsay said.

Under the current system, in operation since creation of the Richmond, Lafayette and Oakley sheriff's substations in 1955, reports filed by patrol deputies in the substations in some cases have not been forwarded to the central office for more than 24 hours. Seldom do substation reports reach the central office before eight hours have elapsed, Ramsay said.

Cub Scouts Tour Fire Station

Cub Scouts of Pack 217 sponsored by the Gregory Gardens Improvement Association, took a field trip Saturday to the Mt. Diablo Fire Protection District Station.

The fire house was toured and fire equipment was explained to the Cub Scouts.

Civil Service Class Now in Session

A Civil Service Training course is now in session at Mt. Diablo Evening School on Wednesdays from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., and any interested person over 18 years of age may enroll.

The course includes drill in clerical arithmetic, grammar, punctuation and capitalization, vocabulary and spelling, filing and general preparation for civil service examinations.

Whistle A Happy Tune

TRY this for size to the Pufferbelly Tune:
"Down at the Crossroads
Early in the morning
See the little Cleaning Girls
ALL in a row.
See Orinda matrons
in their Fords & Fiats
Toot-toot! Honk-Honk!
Off they go."

A LATE INDIAN SUMMER casting its soft morning sunbeams in a Get Up & Get Going glow . . . Sundresses & shorts still a part of your wardrobe, not to mention your swimsuit ever-handy for gardening in the hot hours.

WHY is it that once the pool has officially closed, the Weather Man goes all out — cloudless blue skies, soft morning sun, a span fo ra tan & a heavenly pink-mauve curtain that comes down quietly at dusk settling its velvety sumptuousness over everything in sight.

TWILIGHT HUSH & the children settled w/homework or TV while dinner cooks away & you steal a few minutes outside all to yourself — o rtogether w/your spouse — just you, the momentary magic of early evening & the hoot of the first owl & that mournful call of the white-collared sparrow who only sings his autumnal song in the first rosy blush of Fall.

Sometimes I think thi sis my favorite time of year — a suspended season — to have & to hold momentarily, like a delicate bird — a time to look forward as well as to remember.

IN HONOR of the new Mills president, C. Easton Rothwell, Mills alumnae of the Diablo area are hostessing a reception on Sunday at the Miner Rd. home of the Frank Wrights.

Assisting Jeannette Wright in protocol, sugar lumps & all the little details are Orinda Mills president Joan Simpson, Lid Miles, Jean Dexter, Nancy McJunkin of WC & Eleanor Winant of Port Chicago.

Sharing introduction duties in the receiving line will be two non-Mills girls, the Rothwell's daughter Ann who is a student at Stanford & Judith Henderson of College of Pacific, whose mother Jean is an active Mills alumnae & is well-know to All Orindans.

Jean Henderson, by the way, had the very special pleasure recently of being shown through the newly-refurbished campus home of the Rothwells. It is the original ranch home on the property purchased Way Back for the College when the area of Mills was really Out In The Country.

About 150 invitations have been issued to the reception which is to take place between the hours of 2 - 5.

Popular Mary Dorr planes back to Orinda from Malibu for a Linden Branch benefit bookalogue at the Pied. Vets. Mem'l. Hall, Oct. 21, 12 noon.

Tkts. for the Book Review & Salad Lunch are available from Char Chapple, CL 4-5530 or Virginia Foster, DR 6-4586.

MANY LOCALITES made the Big Scene for the Jazz Festival No. 2 recently in Monterey. This Far-Out function w/its potpourri of People ,is now an established California tradition & more fun than a Barrel of Monkeys even if you're not in the Jazz Groove.

Making The Big Scene

We bumped into Alf & Jeri Clement who were down for the festivities. They solo-ed the Sat. night show after sharing pre-dinner libations w/Jane & Bob Jurs & the Ernest Kahls at Dolores Lodge. Heini Gentry (his orch. plays for the Bohemian Club) was in the Festival throng as was Chris Almond whose parents the John Almonds, since they've sold their Pacif Grove retreat, were cottaging in Carmel.

Ole—For South American Way

SOUTH of the Border went Sierra Branch of Children's Hospital last Sunday night for a benefit bash at the Camino Sobrante home of the William Wilkinsons.

The party, from five until, was called "Fiesta Mexicana" & combined the color & gaiety of Old Mexico w/the ultra-modernity of this Roger Lee prize-winning residence.

The Welcome Committee, an appealing pet burro by name of Joshua who didn't let the guests detour him from his nibbling of the Ivy on which he was doing a neat trimming job . . . The burro borrowed from the Gene Palmers who attended the party & are friends of member Ann Grant & her husband Bob. The Grants & Wilkinsons shared host & hostess honors w/Marie & Howard Converse, Jim & Donna Treadwell.

The hostess Irene in a colorful rainbow-plaid blouse w/an Olive corduroy skirt. Her husband, Bill, a wonderful helpmate to Irene as well as the Branch committee. One of the Cedar Ladies nominating HIM for an Honorary Membership for pitching in, instead of ditching out. like SOME husbands do.

THE MARKEDO, outdoor marketplace, at the top of the driveway, was in the spirit of South of the Border, a canvas overhang sheltering the wares which were shown to advantage in colorful crocks & earthern bowls.

Wearing a woven sash & wide sombrero, Howard Converse sat at a table, converting Dollars into Pesos.

Popular items were the dried arrangements, the straw flowers, red & green peppers, gourds, Osage oranges, pomegranates, pinecones & pebbles. Fastest sellers were the huge golden fuzzy thistles which Ann Grant & Irene had precariously plucked from the side of the Freeway one day.

TEQUILA PUNCH was dispensed from a huge plastic bowl w/Bob Grant doing the honors here, aided by the Albert deGrassis' son Andy who served guests and did all-around helpful duty.

IN THE CROWD, the Gordon Ainsworths, Cita Nielsen pearl-gray chiffon, she w/friends since Supervisor Mel was still in Danville for the Danville Hay-Days parade.

UNDER THE TREES on the living room terrace, guests admiring the attractive stone & succulents arrangements . . . Greetings for Bill Zion whose wife is vacationing in Mexico, the William Cooks, Ann & Dick Ward who are Mr. & Mrs. Pres. of the Valley Art Center. The light from the Luminarios (wax bags filled w/dirt & candles) causing much comment & casting a soft spell over the Indian Summer evening.

STROLLING MARIACHIS playing Mexican & Spanish songs . . . Making a request, Teddy & Ollie Gardiner, she who paints had a one-woman show at Phair's recently.

A round of introductions for the Richard Weedes of Pleasant Hill. He is the son of Singer Robert (Happy Fella) Weede & they came to the party w/the Michael Woods of Orinda.

Shades of Dolores Del Rio

Biggest customer in the Markedo was Jimmy McCone who bought an asstmt. of everything, from Soup to Nuts (Henderson's Almonds, that was), even a potted eucalyptus that wasn't intended for sale. His wife Valla is Cedar's Queen Contestant for the Oct. 21 Headdress Ball.

SHADES OF Dolores Del Rio . . . A black lace mantilla on Peggy Mansfield who w/her husband Frank had just arrived on The Big Scene from the other Big Scene at Monterey. Dick Graves, Parker Stacks, Colette Smith lining up for the buffet of Tacos, Enchiladas & Tamale Pie which was Hot, man, we mean HOT! Others glimpsed in the gay throng, the Tom Manns, the Richard Weyeneths who walked down from their Camino Sobrante house (formerly the Charles Merrell home), the Julian Sterns, Phil Nottinghams, Phil & Barbara Mittell.

The party was a Big Success, but only another one on the calendar for the busy Grants & Wilkinsons who will work w/Chrmn. Ronnie & Bob James for the Seabury (Young Marrieds of St. Stephens) & their Hay Ride plans slated for later month.

The Grants are taking a breather, a pack-up to Paso Robles, a sight-see at San Simeon & thence to Carmel to rest up between party-plan chores.

When Muir Sorrick, chairman of the newly-formed "Friends of the Orinda Library" group started querying some mos. ago about the "Friends" organization (there are 400 of these devoted Bookworm groups in the country), one lady looked surprised & said "Why, I didn't dream there were so many Quakers in Orinda."

This new group of "Friends" will serve as a Good Right Arm to the Library Board. Bibliophiles, Bookworms & anyone interested in membership in "Friends" may call Mrs. Sorrick, CL 4-2121 or Mrs. Miles Hudson, CL 4-3545.

ON VIEW At the Library—Handsome portraits in pastels by Frankie Gilmour, lady artist. We recognized Carolyn Archer & Dale Pilgrim among the 10 portraits on display. Makes a wonderful Christmas gift. Prices are Children under 14—$50, over 14—$65 & Portraits showing hands—$75.

Fellow Philatelists will be interested in seeing the handsome Stamp Collections under glass by Lance Chilton & Dwight Pederson. VERY informative. At the Library!

County Asks Bids On Orinda Road Reconstruction

Supervisor Mel Nielsen announced today that the board of supervisors has called for bids to be received on November 3, 1959, for the reconstruction of portions of Los Altos Road, Manzanita Drive—and Bobolink Road, together with the replacement of a culvert on La Espiral.

The above work will be done as one contract project.

WORK WILL COMMENCE on this project in the early part of November and will be completed in January.

The work on Los Altos and Manzanita Drive will consist of a complete reconstruction of the existing pavement. while the work on Bobolink Road will consist of an overlay of plant-mixed surfacing. The culvert installation on La Espiral will replace an inadequate existing culvert.

Traffic will be permitted to pass through the road reconstruction projects during the working period, except that La Espiral will be closed to traffic for about five days while the new culvert is being installed.

The project will cost approximately $14,800.

Mrs. Banks Named Event Chairman

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Lafayette Community Methodist Church has announced that Mrs. William Banks has been named chairman of the fall fair to be held Saturday, November 7 at 10 o'clock and continuing through the day.

Mrs. Banks' committee, consisting of Mrs. Wayne Weeks, Mrs. William Price, Mrs. Burwell Spurlock, Mrs. Manuel Lucas, Mrs. Erwin Workman, Mrs. Andrew Kritscher and Mrs. Charles White, is planning booths to feature handmade gift items and homemade baked goods and candies.

Luncheon will be available and a Japanese tea will be served.

Trustees Meet For Bond Sale

The Orinda School District trustees met last night to authorize the sale of all available bonds for the Indland Valley School application.

The meeting was held at Pine Grove School.

Picnic Planned Tomorrow for Glorietta Group

The board of the Glorietta School Parents Club has planned an outing of games, races and square dancing for Glorietta parents and their progeny at Wildwood Acres, near Lafayette, tomorrow.

Maps with explicit directions are being sent home with the children this week.

THERE WILL BE varied activities for families attending and all are cordially invited.

Jack Clark, principal of Glorietta School, will call the square dancing, the Wildwood Acres pool will be open to all guests between racing ,games, and do-si-dos.

Famiies may bring food or purchase it there at a snack bar.

A nominal fee for use of the facilities will be charged upon admittance and additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Bruce Montgomery at CL 4-3349.

Local Resident On Honor List

Marjorie G. Fries Grossen, 4 Crown Court, has been named to the Chico State College honors list for achieving a grade point average of 3.5 or better (A minus to A) for the spring semester.

Fifty-three undergraduate students were included. The honors list, open only to undergraduates, was established by the president's cabinet to give official recognition for high scholarship.

GRADES ARE judged on a cumulative basis, so that the more advanced the student, the more difficult it is for him to obtain an average as high as 3.5 grade points, or A minus, the lowest average included on the honors list.

Thirteen seniors, 13 juniors, 12 sophomores and 15 freshmen "made" the list.

Names of the honor students have been posted in the "Hats Off" display case in the rotunda of the administration building.

Margaret Belden Joins Sorority

Margaret Belden, 43 El Toyonal, is among 415 students at the University of Wisconsin who were recently pledged to the Wisconsin chapters of 15 sororities on the UW campus.

Of a total of 93 social and professional sororities and fraternities which have chapters on the Wisconsin campus, 38 are sororities and 55 are fraternities.

All of these social and professional organizations on the campus have programs which include social and professional activities of interest to their members in their various fields of educational training.

Go To Church Sunday

Christian Science

The healing and redemptive power of the Christ, Truth, will be explained in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Christian Science Churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda; 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek; and in Concord at the corner of Grant and Park Streets.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE Society of Pleasant Hill holds its services at the Pleasant Hill Grange, 600 Gregory Lane, Pleasant Hill.

The Christian Science Society of Lafayette meets at 3406 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

Matthew's account of the healing of the leper by Christ Jesus (8:2-4) is included in the passages to be read from the King James version of the Bible.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this selection will be read (19:6): "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin and death by the law of the Spirit, — the law of divine love."

Congregational

The Reverend Donald Frazier, western area director of the Christian higher education fund of the Congregational Christian Churches, will preach at the 9:30 and 11 o'clock services on Sunday morning at the Orinda Community Church. His sermon topic will be "If You Can."

Church school classes, three-year-olds through the eighth grades, will be held at the 9:30 and 11 o'clock hours. Infant care will be provided during both services.

SENIOR PILGRIM fellowship will have its regular meeting at the church at 7:15 p.m.

The churchmen's fellowship will have a dinner on Monday, 6:30 p.m. in fellowship hall. Young church members will be the honored guests. The Reverend Walter Bishop will be the speaker.

The third lecture in the Christian life series will be at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the chapel. Dr. John Dyckman, visiting professor of city planning from the University of Pennsylvania will speak on "Our Expanding Society."

Methodist

The Lafayette Community Methodist Church will hold Sunday morning worship services at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

This morning is laymen's Sunday, with the guest speaker to be the Reverend John L. Dodson, speaking on the sermon topic "A Light in Darkness." Nursery service is provided at both services.

Church school for all ages will be at 9:30 a.m. A Bible class for adults is at 9:30 a.m. A new high school class is starting at 9:30 a.m., and will meet in the MYF room. All high school youth are invited.

Sunday evening at 7 o'clock the Methodist Youth Fellowship will have its regular meeting. All high school youth are invited.

TUESDAY AT 10 a.m. the study class on "The Way in Africa" will meet in the church lounge.

The Wednesday morning Bible study group meets at the home of Mrs. T. Erwin, 811 Solana Drive, from 9:15 to 11 a.m. All interested women are invited.

Thursday at 10:30 a.m. the Woman Society of Christian Service meets, to be followed by a luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

Thursday at 7:30 p.m. is choir rehearsal.

SATURDAY at 8 p.m. the Second Milers will meet.

Next Sunday, October 25, 5:30 p.m. is Family Mission Night. Mrs. Earl L. Menker, who has visited some 20 countries, is the outstanding speaker. She will speak on "Africa." It is a family potluck supper. Anyone interested is cordially welcome.

Episcopal

St. Anselm's Episcopal Church services on the 21st Sunday after Trinity will include Holy Communion at 7:30 and 8:30 a.m. at the Canterbury Chapel and morning prayer and Holy Communion at 10:30 a.m. at the Chapel in the Valley, 985 Thompson Road.

Celebrant will be the Reverend Clarence Stacy, vicar.

Church school is held at 10:30 a.m. for all age groups. Infants and pre-school children may be taken to 979 First Street and kindergarten through third grades will meet at Neilson's Nursery School, 1033 Clinton Court.

The fourth and sixth grades are held at 949 Moraga Road and fifth, seventh and eighth at the Canterbury Chapel, 682 Michael Lane.

Holy Communion on Wednesday will also be at the Canterbury Chapel with the service beginning at 10 a.m.

CONFIRMATION CLASSES will meet as usual on Tuesday at the vicarage with the children gathering at 4 p.m. and high school students and adults at 8 p.m.

Junior choir rehearsal under the direction of Miss Lenore Foulks is held each Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the vicarage.

The evening section of the Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Anselm's will hold an organizational meeting on Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the vicarage.

IN ADDITION to the business meeting, Mrs. Rodney Saylor will speak on the Organization of the Whole Church.

The Bible study group which meets with Mrs. Walter White each Thursday morning will not be meeting this week only.

Baptist

"Confidence Men" is the sermon topic of Rev. Bruce H. Parker at the 11 a.m. service in the First Baptist Church of Orinda-Lafayette this Sunday at the Veterans Memorial Building, Lafayette.

Sunday School will commence at 9:45 a.m. after which junior church and a nursery facility are available, while adults attend morning worship.

BAPTIST YOUTH Fellowship meets at 6:45 p.m. for all teenagers.

The last study from the book of Revelation will be featured in the 7:30 p.m. evangelistic hour in the message by the pastor, "Conditional Conclusions."

Midweek Bible study and prayer will convene at the Webb residence in Lafayette, 3225 Palomares.

While preparations are under way for the new building all services will be conducted in the Veterans Memorial Building, Lafayette, unless otherwise noted.

Lutheran

Our Savior's Lutheran Church will observe Laymen's Sunday this week at both the 8:15 and 11 a.m. services when two of the laymen will speak on the theme: "He has Called Me."

Groundbreaking for the new building will be held during the second service. Nursery care is available at the 11 a.m. hour.

A COMPLETE graded Sunday school is held at 9:30 a.m. with classes for both pre-school youngsters and on through adult Bible class. A second section of Sunday school is available at 11 a.m. for those in the pre-school department through sixth grade.

The senior Luther league will meet at 7 p.m. Sunday evening and will discuss the topic, "Getting along with our parents."

New adult inquiry class will be organized at 8 p.m. Sunday. This class is open to anyone who would like to study the foundations of the Christian faith. There is no obligation incurred by attending.

THE MID-WEEK Bible study will be held on Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Janet Erickson, 939 Hough Street, Lafayette.

Thursday morning, 10:30 a.m., the Women's Bible Study Group meets. Thursday evening is choir rehearsal time: Juniors at 6:20, intermediate sat 7:15, and Senior choir at 8:15.

Baptist

"The Song of Sorrow" will be the sermon topic of Reverend Alan D. Southwell at the 11 a.m. worship service of the Moraga Community Baptist Church this Sunday.

Services are temporarily being held in the Moraga School.

CHURCH SCHOOL for all ages starts at 9:30 a.m. An adult class invites all to join them in discussing a study of the Bible being presented by Dr. Alexander Miller, professor of religion at Stanford University by way of the television screen.

Junior and senior high youth fellowship meets for recreation and inspiration at 6:45 p.m. in the Moraga School.

They leave at 8 p.m. for a youth rally at the Pleasant Hill Community Baptist Church under the direction of the American Baptist Ministers of this area.

Suburban

This Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service of the Suburban Bible Church Reverend Gray Lambert will speak on the subject "Go Over and Possess the Land."

His sermon will be taken from the Book of Joshua and will relate the experiences of the children of Israel in conquering the land of Cannan to the walk and life of the Christian.

AT 10 A.M. GRADED Sunday school classes are also held in the Veteran's Building in Walnut Creek and nursery facilities are available at all services.

At 7:30 p.m. the third in the present series of teacher training classes will be held at the Veteran's Building and at 6:30 p.m. there will be a meeting and Bible study for praise and testimony. The public is cordially invited to attend the services of the Suburban Bible Church.

The regular Thursday night home Bible class will not meet this week as the annual business meeting of the church will be held on Friday night.

THE BUSINESS meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m. and nursery facilities will be available.

In connection with the ministry of the church a fellowship of prayer has been formed and anyone in need of prayer is invited to call the church at either YE 5-7287 or AT 3-6315.

Also anyone desiring transportation to the meetings of the church is asked to call the church.

Covenant

The pioneers of the Lafayette Covenant Church are planning for a hard times party at the church tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Couples with the combined age of under 80 years are invited to attend.

The fall rally contest is continuing in the Sunday school which meets at 9:45 a.m. each Sunday. Pastor Mays will be speaking at the morning service at 11 a.m. Covenant Home Missions Sunday will be observed at that time.

AT 6 P.M. THE junior high group will hold its meeting. The senior high young people will meet also at 6 p.m. for "teenage square" with their director, Tom Hedges, speaking. The young people will also enjoy miniature golf and fireside on October 24 at 6 p.m.

On Sunday evening at 7 the 23 men who attended the men's retreat at Mission Springs last weekend will be presenting men's retreat echoes.

There will be special music directed by Ernie Friberg. A color-movie taken by Bill Hartman in Nome, Alaska, will also be shown.

RESIDENTS OF this area are reminded of dial-a-meditation, a 58-second spiritual message which can be heard by dialing YE 4-8381.

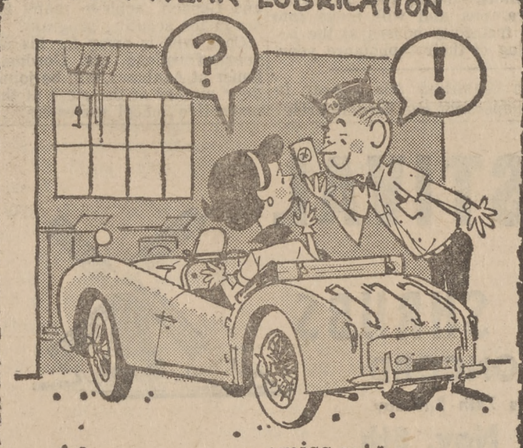

On Wednesday of this next week the Ladies' Bible class will resume its regular schedule with coffee time at 9:45 a.m. and Bible study at 10 a.m.

Prayer meeting and Bible study are held each Wednesday evening at 7:30 and the choir rehearses at 8:15 p.m.

Proponents' Study Shows Plan for Administration

The last of the town program reports of the Lafayette Improvement Association's incorporation committee deals with a variety of operations—council, administration, planning, community improvements and finances—that will become town responsibilities if incorporation is approved by local voters October 27.

An unpaid town council of five members is the governing body, and its members are the only elected officials.

THE COUNCIL OPERATES like a school board, selecting one of its members chairman or mayor, and delegating administration to a professional manager.

Immediately after incorporation the council will be meeting frequently to get the new municipality set up. Later, its meetings should settle down to one evening each two weeks.

This makes it convenient for ordinary citizens to appear at council meetings and to serve on the council itself, and is the general practice in towns which have a manager to handle routine details.

A STATEWIDE search will be made to find the best-qualified manager, a man with experience in newly-incorporated communities like Lafayette. A salary of about $10,000 will be necessary. The general administrative office will also be staffed by a town clerk and secretarial assistance.

A town legal counsel will also be necessary. Except for the period immediately after incorporation, his services will be on a part-time retainer basis.

Town building space needs involve a council meeting place, as well as offices for the manager's staff, police headquarters, and any engineering or planning personnel employed full-time rather than as consultants. Existing facilities offer several alternatives.

THE SHERIFF'S SUBSTATION is owned by our fire district, and could be made partly or entirely available. The Town Hall, owned by the improvement association, is in process of renovation and offers some space, both for meetings and offices.

The Veterans Building, and school facilities, can also be used for meetings.

Rental space for offices, a practice of many suburban towns, is abundant. The main fire station was designed so that a second floor could be added for town purposes. With these choices available, the incorporation study groups found no need to build a separate city hall.

The county will contract to handle assessing and tax collection at a nominal charge, and building inspection and pound services in return for the fees involved.

COST-WISE, the report estimates the following amounts required annually for general government and administration:

Council, manager, legal and other expenses, $2,300; administrative salaries, $18,400; elections (bi-annual), $600; telephone, $1,200; office supplies, $1,200; rent (includes equipment), $3,000; postage legal ads, printing, etc., $1,200; office equipment, $1,000; bonds, insurance, auditing, treasurer, social security, $10,000; legal retainer, $3,600; building operation and maintenance (utilities, etc.), $2,000; and county property tax assessing, collection and miscellaneous, $500; for a total of $45,000.

Planning and zoning are matters of vital community concern, control of which will be transferred from the county to Lafayette upon incorporation.

IN ADDITION TO a council-appointed town planning commission, some expert and some routine planning services will be required.

In terms of general planning, we already have the benefit of the recently-adopted Lafayette General Plan and the county staff work that went into it. In addition, much of our basic residential pattern has already been set, and the incorporation program calls for no radical changes.

Included in the town boundaries are large undeveloped areas in Happy Valley, Burton Valley and the hills throughout town.

THE BALANCE of the community is about 75 per cent developed.

The main emphasis will be on preserving and improving this pattern, and strengthening controls at certain points—hillside development, grading and darinage, appearance of business areas, eac.

Thus general planning studies by outside consultants will be concentrated on special problems, and will be completed as soon as possible after incorporation. For cities of less than 25,000 population, such as Lafayette, the federal government will share equally in the cost of such studies and related administrative work.

AS TO ZONING administration, the town has several feasible alternatives. Some cities Lafayette's size have no zoning staff. Others contract with consulting firms or counties for these services. Still others combine zoning with engineering, building inspection or administration to obtain joint use of personnel.

Some cities have full-time zoning technicians, although moderate-sized communities like Lafayette cannot offer the scope, challenge or salaries to obtain top-flight planners on a full-time basis.

Recognizing that the town planning commission will have to work out the method that it finds best suited to Lafayette, the committee concluded the annual cost for zoning administration, however it is set up, will approximate $8,000.

IN ADDITION TO land-use controls, the general planning studies will analyze community needs in terms of parks, major road improvements, recreational-cultural facilities, etc. After public scrutiny and approval, a long-term program of such improvements can be initiated, financed with designated reserve funds.

In budgeting, cities show planning, engineering (which is shown in the Lafayette road budget) and community physical improvements under the heading "general government and administration," and also show little or no reserves.

The incorporation committee has set forth all of these items separately to give a clearer idea of what is actually involved.

APART FROM the annual budget, about $250,000 will automatically accumulate in the town treasury between October 27 and July 1, 1960, the date the town takes responsibilty from the county for roads, police protection, etc.

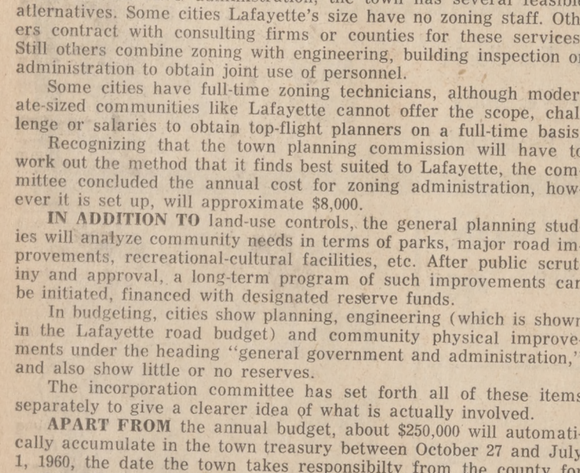

These revenues are the town's annual pro rata share of state subventions of sales and gas tax, vehicle licenses and the other taxes we are now paying, but receive only if incorporated.

The incorporation committee recommends the eight months time and a part of the $250,000 be used to take immediate steps to gain the fullest advantage of incorporation.

EXTENSIVE LEGAL WORK, early hiring of a manager, planning and engineering studies and provision for needed space and equipment are among the items recommended, at a cost of $25,000 to $50,000.

Together with funds already accumulated via special local taxes, the proposed new Lafayette library could be completed for an additional $50,000 to $75,000.

This would leave about $150,000 as a general long-term town reserve.

Book Fair Will Attempt To Fill Fairview Racks

A library in every new school has been a persistent and successful policy of the Lafayette School District for the past eight years.

Getting books onto those bare shelves is the big headache, according to Don Williams, assistant to the superintendent in charge of educational services, who yesterday reviewed a major problem in maintaining this district's high standards.

WE'VE FOUGHT many a battle in the past over space for libraries in obtaining state building funds," Williams said. "Today the trend is to consider libraries essential even for poor school districts like ours. First you get the space and then it takes years to equip it properly."

Lafayette Elementary School is the only school in the district having nine books per child, the standard set by the American Library Association. That is the goal for all schools, Williams says.

Giving a new school library a boost in those first lean years is a favorite project of parents' organizations in this area. The "Book Fair" seems to be the most popular method of adding to district funds for library books.

FAIRVIEW SCHOOL'S Book Fair to be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday is typical. Browsers and buyers will find 200 books for all ages on display in the school library from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and at night from 7 to 9. Students have a chance to jot down their choices as a help to parents who often order Christmas books at this time.

Miss Carol Erickson, the district's new supervising librarian, will be on hand Wednesday night to advise parents and will have a basic reference library for home use to show them, according to Mrs. Donald Strain, ways and means chairman.

You may be sure when the seventh and eighth graders bring books from home to donate to the bargain book table, Mrs. Ruth Cady, librarian clerk, will be on hand to lay first claim to desirable volumes for the school. In its second year, Fairview now has only 2.5 books per child.

MRS. STRAIN SAYS parents who order books are not limited to those on display and pay only the regular retail price as the club makes its profit through a discount from the cooperating book store

Other book fairs will be held at the following schools: Burton, November 4; Merriewood, November 10; and Vallecito, November 12.

"The district welcomes this kind of activity as well as gifts of books from private citizens," Williams said. "We may have to consider ourselves an impoverished district, but we feel here that a library is not an extra service like buses or cafeterias. It is a source of enjoyment for the children and an aid to the teacher. Its use is an integral part of the learning process."

DISTRICT FUNDS are allotted to each school according to the number of pupils and the age of the school. The principal must buy textbooks and supplies as well as library books out of this. For example, Merriewood, which opened this year, was given $25 per child, according to Williams. This will diminish to $7.50 annually in five years where it will remain, cost of living and learning willing.

Audience In The Spirit At Laf-Frantics Opening

By LARRY GLAZIER

If audience participation is any indication of the success of a show, the Laf-Frantics certainly have a hit on their hands with their 1959 presentation, "Search For A Penny."

The show, which opened last Friday night and played to full houses at the Town Hall its first two nights, will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night and October 23 and 24.

AT THE BEGINNING of the playbill for the show is found the following announcement:

"The audience is encouraged to boo and hiss the villain, as well as cheer the hero type characters in the show."

Not only did the audience follow the request during the melodrama, which is the first portion of Laf-Frantics of '59, but it also provided vocal accompaniment to several of the numbers offered during the second, or olio, portion of the performance.

THIS OLIO PORTION takes the form of an old vaudeville-type minstrel show, right down to a 19-man minstrel group which remains on stage at all times.

The melodrama, which is centered about a lovely young heroine, Penelope Pennypacker (Jerrie Burnside), is set in a small Massachusetts village about 1893.

Presented in the best soap opera fashion, "Search For A Penny" has a hero, a villain and two henchmen, and—as is the case in all melodramas of the vaudeville era—there is a happy ending.

ONE SAD POINT, however, is that Melba Luna, who was to have portrayed Mrs. Settleback in the melodrama, was hospitalized during the openining performances, and Louise Welty had to step in as understudy. At last report, Mrs. Luna was coming along quite well.

Mrs. Welty and her husband, Dan, who once again spent many hours of thought and hard labor in producing and directing the local talent show, have come up with perhaps their best offering yet.

It would be futile to attempt to pick out the starts of a performance which includes nearly 40 highly talented local personages, and it appears sufficient to say that each and every one of the acts was carried out in the best professional manner.

THE OLIO PORTION of the program included everything from an interlocutor (Joe Castro) to a female trio which wandered into the audience to carouse with some of the male patrons (all in fun, of course) and a vocal quintet which would do Lafayette proud in professional circles.

Especially noteworthy was the costuming, including some phosphorescent materials which was exceptionally effective for choreographic purposes when the house lights were dimmed.

All in all, the performance is worth the personal attention of each Lafayette resident—if for no other reason than to discover the type of amateur talent the local community produces.

IN ADDITION, tho', the funds from the Laf-Frantics presentations benefit the Lafayette Community Center—one of the program's sponsors.

The other sponsors include the Lafayette Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Lafayette Suburban Woman's Club, the Lafayette Junior Suburban Woman's Club, the Lafayette Senior Citizens and the Lafayette Town and Country Woman's Club.

Special Zones to Water Districts

The board of commissioners of the Eastern Contra Costa Fire Protection District will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the county prison farm on Marsh Creek Road to consider definite action regarding a special taxing district for the Moraga area.

Members of the board will hear a report from Stanford White, board secretary, and will draw up the final recommendations for presentation to the board of supervisors, the only body with the power to establish the separate taxing zone.

At their regular meeting Tuesday night, the commissioners voted to go ahead with the esta blishment of the special zone in order to equalize costs and benefits within the large fire district.

Bridge Club Has Meeting Tonight

The Lafayette Bridge Club will hold its regular monthly master point play at 7:30 p.m. today in the Lafayette School. The club meets at the same time each Friday evening.

Scores from last week's play were:

North-south: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cave 61, E. Westphal and C. Davis 60 and Gil Farrell and Don Schrump and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reilly 58 (tie).

DuPont's Antioch Plant Explained To Local Rotary

Employees at the Antioch Works of the E. I. duPont de Nemours and Company, Inc., have worked more than two million man-hours since May 1956 without any lost time work injuries, members of the Lafayette Rotary Club were told yesterday.

S. J. DeSimone, assistant employee relations superintendent at the plant, addressed the local club at its regular luncheon meeting at Jim's Chuck Wagon.

DeSIMONE SAID that when the plant first was staffed in May 1956 a number of supervisors were transferred from other duPont sites. The remainder of the plant's 330 employees were hired locally, he added.

The speaker reported that since the plant opened 16 wage roll men have been promoted to supervisor and other members of the supervisory staff were transferred to other duPont plants.

Two products are made at the Antioch installation: Tetra-ethyl lead, an anti-knock additive to gasoline, and "Freon," a non-toxic refrigerant and aerosol propellant, DeSimone stated.

HE EXPLAINED that both of the products are manufactured at duPont facilities in the East, but the growing demand for the products made a West Coast site desirable.

DeSimone was introduced by Stanford White, program chairman for the day.

Incorporation Can Cost $9.50 Monthly: Opponents

Opponents of the proposed incorporation of Lafayette said this week that their cost studies indicate town government will cost the owners of $30,000 homes $9.50 more per month than they are presently paying in taxes.

The Lafayette Taxpayers Anti-Incorporation League said incorporation will cost the average homeowners an additional $114 per year in taxes.

THEIR BUDGET figures appear in a printed mailer entitled, "Simple Arithmetic, or Why Lafayette Should Not Incorporate," and the same budget was presented by the league at a meeting of proponents and opponents at Acalanes High School Monday night.

About 400 senior problems students and 100 parents attended the meeting, which included a four-part panel discussion-debate on both sides of the incorporation issue.

The $114 additional tax cost figure for owners of $30,000 homes in Lafayette is based on an annual estimated budget of $939,000, which is more than $250,000 more than the budget proposed by the incorporation committee of the Lafayette Improvement Association.

ACCORDING TO Ned Robinson of the anti-incorporation league, the opponents' budget is based on actual cost figures for Lafayette during the 1958-59 fiscal year. He said the cost and income figures would be greater for this year.

Income, other than property taxes, would amount to $321,000 from the following sources, he stated:

Sales tax, $127,000; auto registration, $100,000; gasoline tax, $56,000; and fees, licenses and fines, $48,000.

THE OPPONENTS listed the following expenses:

Police, $200,000; city offices and administration, $90,000; planning and zoning, $15,000; fire department, $260,000; roads and public works, $250,000; and improvement reserve, $124,000.

Robinson said this leaves a total of $168,000 to be made up through property taxes, thus requiring a $2.46 tax rate per $100 valuation on a $25 million assessed valuation for the proposed town.

ON THIS BASIS, he continued, the residents of the proposed town will be paying $1.52 more per $100 valuation because they have been paying 94 cents per $100 for the fire district operation.

The opponents' mailer lists four reasons why Lafayette should not become incorporated:

1. It will cost you more in taxes.
2. SERVICES WILL be inferior to those now received.
3. Present county and special district taxes will remain.
4. Local planning does not guarantee better planning.

AT THE MEETING Monday night the moderator was John Nejedly, district attorney. The meeting was designed to aid students and was coordinated by James Nelson, who heads the senior problems classes at Acalanes.

The pro-incorporation panel, which consisted of Theron Nelson, [illegible]s Baake Jr., L. Campbell MacPhail, Hugh Kenneth Forsman and William Zion, reiterated the proponents' $685,000 town operating budget and said the monies received between incorporation and next July 1 would help offset the initial cost of establishing a town government.

Parents Club to Hear Panel Talk

The first meeting of the Happy Valley School Parents Club will be held in the school library at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The program will feature a panel discussion on mentally retarded children in this area. Panelists will be Harlan Lewis, guidance consultant for the Lafayette School District; Mrs. Marie Kendall, teacher of the class at Happy Valley School; and Mrs. James Ose, parent participant.

The class for mentally retarded in the intermediate grades is at Happy Valley School and is open to students from Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

Barney Rocca Honored As Retiring Scoutmaster

Bernard Rocca Jr., of Lower Happy Valley Road, was honored by Boy Scout Troop 223 as outgoing Scoutmaster Monday night at M. H. Stanley School Auditorium.

"Barney," as he is affectionately called by the troop, has been Scoutmaster of the troop since its founding seven years ago in Happy Valley.

HE HAS BEEN in scouting all his life, rising to the rank of Eagle Scout in Berkeley Troop 23, and subsequently leading Troop 23 as Scoutmaster for several years.

Upon moving his family, his wife Katherine and sons Roy and Bart, to Lafayette, he accepted the Scoutmaster appointment to the new troop of ten boys organized under the leadership of Duncan Knudsen of Happy Valley, troop committee chairman.

Under Rocca's leadership the trop has grown to now include 112 boys. Many of these boys have risen to the high rank in scouting.

ROCCA WILL NOW be Explorer Advisor of Explorer Post 223. At the Court of Honor Monday night he presented his badge as Scoutmaster of Troop 223 to Leland S. Scott Jr., of Happy Valley, who had been troop committee chairman for three years.

With Advancement Chairman Ted Ingham awarding more than 100 merit badges, 17 Boy Scouts received rank advancement, and three scouts received their Eagle Scout applications.

Advancements: Life Scout, Bart Rocca, Lee Schlenker; Star Scout, Earl Peery, Jim Ingham, Mike McNevin, Steve Scott, Dick Van Loben Sels, Philip Simon.

FIRST CLASS, Brian Childs, Jim O'Leary, Andy Picard, Bob Stoops. Second Class Bob Bauer, Mike Lahey, Dick Lee, Tim Roemer, Kenny Van Loben Sels.

Receiving a total of 21 merit badges were Johnny Max, Pete Noble and Tommy Clarke.

Brake Starts Fire

A minor fire damaged the car of Charles Garberick of 29 Crest Road, Lafayette, Sunday. The emergency brake had overheated.

Oregon Groups Pledge Local Men

Three Lafayette residents are among the 402 men pledged by the University of Oregon's 20 fraternities during the fall term rush week.

They are Carl Lundberg and Tom Condit, pledged by Sigma Nu, and Ogdar Miles Kiesel, Beta Theta Pi.

Freshmen students pledged by the fraternities live in university dormitories during their first year on campus and will move into their fraternity houses at the beginning of their sophomore year.

Give Farewell

SCOUT MOTHERS—13

Many friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Ira Lazarus, 805 Las Trampas Road, last week to extend best wishes to Mrs. Fred Lundberg, who is leaving the community for a new home in Wolcott, Indiana.

The Scout Mothers Club of Boy Scout Troop 204, surprised her with the party and a farewell gift.

SHE HAS BEEN part of the activities of this group for six years, watching both of her sons, Carl and Gordon, achieve many honors in the scouting program.

Carl, who is away for his first year of college, and Gordon, a junior at Acalanes, will be joining their mother at the close of their respective school semesters.

Let's Remember Where the Central Problem Lies...

Sometimes unfortunate facts must be faced, otherwise it is easy to lose sight of the focal point of an issue.

It is becoming increasingly clear that Sheriff Walter Young is not doing the job which he should be doing, and it is time that the entire vice investigation situation in this county is reconsidered.

Certainly it was proven that the sheriff was not doing his job properly in the first report of the Contra Costa Grand Jury last month at which time the grand jury stated:

". . . GAMBLING AND prostitution have been existent within Contra Costa County with the full knowledge of the sheriff's department, and that no aggressive steps, on the part of the sheriff's personnel, to curb or eliminate known gambling and prostitution, have been made in the last six months preceding the start of the grand jury investigation.

". . . It is unfortunate that this investigation . . . casts unfavorable reflections on the sheriff's office and its personnel."

Here, although not official, is a veritable indictment of the sheriff—that is, it is the sheriff's job to administrate his office and to know what is going on.

If he knew what was happening, and did not take action, he was certainly guilty. If he did not know, then he was not performing his job—the job that he is being paid for.

The issues must not become sidetracked. The picture must be brought back into focus.

ONE PINBALL machine raid, one gambling raid in the central county area, and one trip into the North Richmond area are not "cleaning up" the county.

And if these things have been existing for a long time, why has the sheriff had to wait until grand jury pressure is brought to bear before he takes action.

Certainly these are steps in the right direction, but the job is far from being finished. The sheriff is responsible.

Another "side issue," although it is an important one, is the Rathke affair. Having been fired by the sheriff for "insubordination" after she testified to the grand jury and the attorney general regarding affairs in Contra Costa County, she is now entitled to a court appearance where she is suing for reinstatement.

IT IS IMPORTANT to realize that the person who is on trial here is not Mrs. Rathke, but the sheriff himself. He is the one who must "show cause" why she should not be reinstated.

The point is clear. The sheriff was aware of conditions within the county. He knew that there were pinball machine payoffs, that there was prostitution and that there was gambling in the Concord area (not within the city limits).

It has always been, and always will be, the sheriff who is responsible for the operation of his force. The sheriff is the focal point of all these issues.

Then there is the matter of fees and salary payments to the sheriff. He is making a salary of $12,600 annually. It has been estimated that he is receiving an extra income "in excess of $1100 per month" from serving civil papers.

LEGALLY, THIS IS correct. The law states that the sheriff may retain these fees, but it is certainly an immoral situation. He is paid a good salary, and to have this salary boosted to well over $24,000 per year — this makes him the highest paid official in the county — is ridiculous.

The fact is simply that he should not be receiving this money from the service of civil papers.

Much space has been devoted to the vice situation in this county, and there is no question but that much more is to come, with the grand jury and the attorney general still active.

But in all this shooting, it would be well to remember the central point.

The sheriff is at the center of the whole affair.

A Rather Special Event...

This probably doesn't seem like any special week to you. The sun may be shining, or it may be raining as you read this. You may have just gotten back from a vacation, or be about to take one.

This week has seven days, just like any other week—some good, some bad. It contains a multitude of things that must be done, some pleasant, some unpleasant.

Why then is it something to talk about?

As we said, in the first sentence, this probably doesn't seem like any special week to you.

But to us, in the newspaper business, it is a special week—National Newspaper Week—and this is the time when we pause to take stock of our surroundings and to assess our position in the community upon which we depend so much.

WE HAVE ALL heard the old adage about not being able to see the forest for the trees. It is extremely easy to find yourself in this position, when you are working in a business, the byword of which is speed and accuracy.

Sometimes it is very easy to forget your goals and promises in the face of looming immediate events—in the rush and bustle of gathering the news of the day.

Recently every newspaper in this county has been preoccupied with the situation in Martinez. This is to be expected, because important events have been happening at our county seat.

And here it should be mentioned, and proudly, that The Sun calls the shots as it sees them. If an official is wrong, we will say so, no matter who he is or what position he holds. If we think a situation needs correction for the good of the community and our mutual welfare, we will say so.

BUT THERE IS a danger inherent in this. Nobody—and newspapers have personalities, just like people—can be right 100 per cent of the time.

If we are wrong, we will say so when it is pointed out to us. If we are right, we will try to avoid saying "I told you so."

But right or wrong, we are doing our best to help keep you informed about public affairs, both in our county seat and here on the local scene.

And that puts the ball right in the side pocket—the local scene. We, as a newspaper, would be unable to function without your continuing support. We owe you our existence, and consequently, the obligation to serve you honestly and accurately, to the best of our ability.

FOR THIS, WE NEED your help. We depend upon each of you to be our reporters, our eyes and ears. We need your releases and your news "tips."

We also need your letters to the editor, signed, and we will print them. There you may express your opinion on any subject, so long as it is not libelous, and your opinions will be respected.

So you see, this is a special week for us. We have been thinking about it, and these thoughts have led to an evaluation of our position in this community.

And during the coming year we pledge to serve you as honestly and accurately as we can to keep you informed about events, both important and entertaining in our community.

We hope you will share the coming year with us.

Not Another Matchbook!

By DICK OSBORN

May I sympathize with you?

If you have been recently appointed a publicity chairman, may I offer you my sincere condolences?

Now, don't get me wrong. It's not a bad job at all, and you'll probably have a lot of fun preparing your publicity and calling up all the gals and fellows to find out just what is going on in your organization.

No siree, the job is just fine. It has only one drawback.

You have to associate with nasty, cynical, debouched old editors.

THESE HARDENED characters, it is well known, kick the dog every night when they get home and beat their wives (if these long suffering individuals are still putting up with them).

Obviously you won't have any trouble with the tricks of the trade. If you can't type, it doesn't matter . . . just copy what has been done before by publicity chairmen . . . write your information down on the back of a matchbook cover or on a piece of wet Kleenex and stuff it in the editor's mail slot.

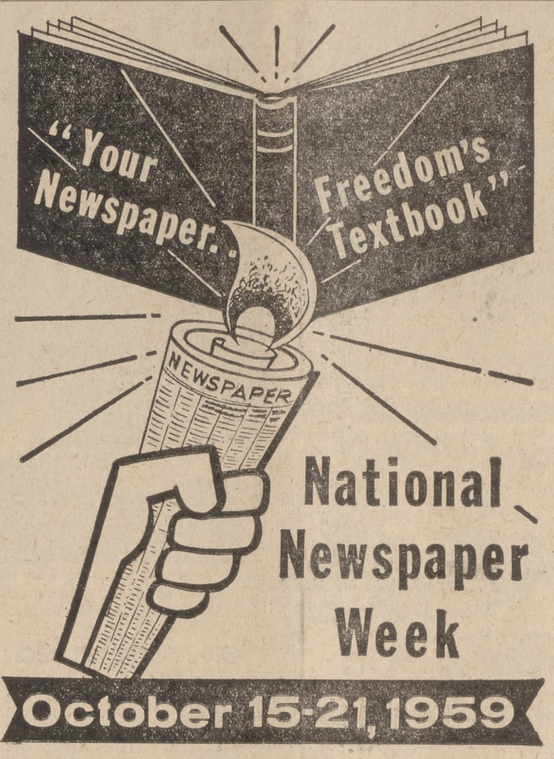

Of course, if you want your material printed, this might not be the best way to prepare your copy.

It might also explain why editors are grizzled characters (see above for complete description).

WHICH ALL BRINGS me around to my point. If you ARE a publicity chairman, or the head of an organization, and if you AREN'T doing anything next Tuesday night at 8 p.m., why not drop around to Acalanes High School and meet some of the friendly, affable Sun staff members.

We'll all have a friendly chat on copy preparation and the vagaries of newspaper publicity. And after a jolly laugh or two, we'll all go home to mull over the whole confusing mess.

Seriously, we're planning on having a lot of fun, and will be looking forward to seeing you there. Come on out and

Nuts & Nabobs Hobnob On The Big Jazz Scene

By Marie Monahan

IT HAPPENED in Monterey, the recent Jazz Festival No. 2 —a sort of Musical Smorgasbord where you marveled more at the heterogenous assortment of humanity than you did at the muisc served up in a Cold Plate Concert to some 7000 fans nightly who sat numb but content for as long as 5 hours at a time.

It was Cool, Man, Cold! After a sun-bathed Sat. matinee, the thermom dropped to 32 degrees for the evening show.

HAVING just thawed out from last year's Deep Peninsula Freeze, we were dressed like the rest of the Cats, we mean Aficionados, in warm slacks, wool shirt, sweater & sporty jacket, not to mention a wooley coat which was used as a lap robe.

(The sleeves came in handy for our chillblained thongsandaled tootsies!)

CHARACTER! We sat in Complimentary Corner, the Dress(?) Circle, surrounded by Disc Jockeys, the Radio & TV crowd.

Their jargon, like the jazz lingo, is fascinating. Instead of the usual Hi or Hello, they query one another with "How's your Rating, Boy?" & mumble to each other mutedly, "It's a BIG Scene, Man," "It's a WONDERFUL World!"

THE THINGS YOU SEE: Carmel Nabobs hobnobbing w/the Homo-Geniuses, the gaunt Vogue Model in her sealskin coat who never heard a NOTE of music, the Eager Young Things, peak-faced & pouting.

The Bermuda-ed, the Bereted & the Bearded. Sportscar caps obviously replacing the rash of fuzzy faces that popped up in such profusion last year.

REAL GONE & FAR OUT—We suspect that everybody attending the Festival seeks their maddest wildest garb, sits down to survey the rest of the mob & mutters to themselves "What a BUNCH of Characters!"—Everyone, that is, except Me & Thee.

Like the Oddity in the Hunt Club who had a Yen for Zen. He was cloaked in flowing black w/flowing hair & resembled John Barrymore portraying the mad magician Cagliostro.

WOODY HERMAN'S Band, big & brassy but Mr. H., let's face it, is getting on—his singing was nasal & he kept gasping for breath.

The Lambert-Ross-Hendricks Trio, now appearing at Fack's, all but STOLE the show from the Big Pros.

Lambert said he was the oldest Bebop singer in the country. Certainly no one doubted it! He sang endless stanzas without coming up for air, his face turning the color of a Bermuda Onion.

The serious-faced ones of the Modern Jazz Quartet, altho' 'way far out in classical originals, we much preferred over some of the other entertainers.

The Fairgrounds, a perfect foil for the Jazz Jamboree. The lawn a cushy carpet, thick & green, studded with oaks, gay colorful snack booths, the Aesthetisc Ones, the Pathetic Ones.

We came home, GLAD we'd gone again, but feeling "What a Bunch of Characters!" Everyone, that is, except Me & Thee.

Next year's plans call for a Dave Brubeck Opera, but we're still wondering what happened to Erroll Garner who was promised for THIS year.

Letters to The Editor

GOOD JOB
Dear Editor:

While we are handing out thanks to various individuals and committees who were instrumental in helping us win the battle regarding installation of a pipeline along Mt. Diablo Blvd., we certainly do not want to overlook the magnificent job you did for us publicity wise.

Your concern as exemplified by news stories and editorials played a large part in this battle to protect the "lifeline" of Lafayette. It aroused the business people as well as our residents of the traffic congestion which would result if the normal flow of traffic along Mt. Diablo Blvd. were curtailed, even for a short time.

The board of directors of the Lafayette chamber of commerce would like to express their appreciation for your loyal support. Along with it, my personal thanks.

KEN JENSEN,
President

Letters to The Editor

SMOKE SCREEN
Dear Editor:

It is interesting to note that Mr. Young is creating quite a smoke screen about his activities and trying to place the blame on Mrs. Rathke for the scandal currently plaguing Contra Costa County.

Mr. Young and his brother-in-law, Undersheriff Harry Ramsey, were chief among the "malcontents" in the widespread publicity plaguing the Sheriff's Office in the previous administration, but without dismissal from office.

Mr. Young should be charged with "disloyalty, insubordination, conduct unbecoming a civil employee, violation of the Civil Service Code, and neglect of duty" toward the citizens of Contra Costa County.

FROM MRS. Rathke's reported testimony to the Grand Jury, it appears that Mr. Young is now "passing the buck" in an effort to dodge the issue.

If the citizens of the county want to correct the conditions which have been reported in testimony before the Grand Jury and given under oath—conditions for which the county was renown prior to 1955—they must defend a citizen with the courage to present such facts to the State Attorney General's office.

Also, every county civil employee should be aware that only through such support of Mrs. Rathke can they overcome the indifference expressed by the civil service authorities in Mrs. Rathke's case.

It is most unfortunate that civil service employees who are completely honest and dedicated must refrain from disclosing knowledge of irregular activities in county government—or suffer dismissal under the guise of "disloyalty and insubordination."

IS THIS THE Civil Service Code in Contra Costa County?

What has happened to the guaranteed rights of the individual under the Constitution —and freedom of speech?

Have the "powers" of this County of Contra Costa become supreme over those of the Constitution?

COST CUT
Dear Editor:

The enclosed article seems to me so worthy of note that I did not want you to miss it.

It is good to know that there is a man holding a state office, who has this point of view. We had never heard of Mr. McCarthy, but now we hope to hear of him again.

Would that there were more like him, right here in our county. We are grateful to The Sun for continually working to that end.

MRS. THOMAS L. BROWN

(Ed. Note: The article referred to included a statement by Motor Vehicles Director Robert I. McCarthy that he proposed to cut his own department's budget by more than $2 million because he was convinced that "We can render just as good, or better service with a smaller force, and by cutting out some of the frills.")

NATIONAL FLOWER
Dear Editor:

What could be more appropriate for our national flower than the American Columbine?

The columbine, a native of almost every state of the union, including Alaska, occurs in colors of either red, white or blue, as well as gold. The red would seem the more suitable. (The blue is Colorado's state flower).

IT IS A beautiful, hardy and durable perrenial and an abundant provider of food for that life which depends upon it—and it also secretes a bitter juice to foil invaders.

A more symbolic flower to represent the United States would be hard to find for its very name represents both the dove of peace and the eagle of war.

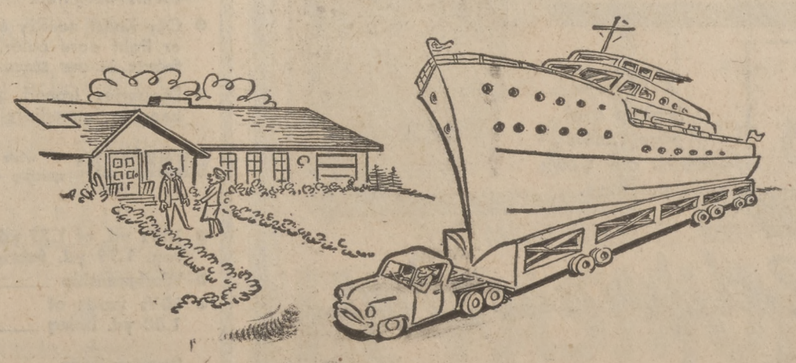

The name "columbine" derived from the Latin "columbinus," for dove, suggests both Columbia and Columbus.

ITS SCIENTIFIC name "Aquilegia" comes from "aquila" meaning eagle. The spurs of the columbine resemble the hooked talons of our bird of freedom.

Furthermore, both flower and foliage would lend themselves well to design for distinctive emblems for our country.

Under The Sun

Are You Bored With Some Of Our 'Big Stories?'

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

A few days ago a friend complained that The Sun devotes too much space to the current gambling and political mess, involving the sheriff and our county. Another critic said we harp on the "same old story" for years and years.

Perhaps the criticism is warranted. I'm not sure.

Today, however, I am not going to attempt to justify The Sun's policy. I'll leave that up to you to decide. But today I am going to relate a few stories about other newspapers in other communities. I believe these facts will speak for themselves.

The Utica (N.Y.) Observer-Dispatch and the Daily Press fought crime in their city year after year. For 30 years, they have been exposing an unholy alliance between crime and politics and pointed the way to eliminate it. They hounded district attorney after district attorney—as well as the police force and administration. Editorials and stories hammered at prostitution, gambling, laxity in law enforcement.

Constant pounding . . .

In 1956 and 1957 more than 80 editorials pounded away at lack of law enforcement, suspected collusion among leaders of both political parties and a suspected attempt to defraud the taxpayers.

Even with the heat on, some gamblers continued. This showed, according to their editor, Vin Jones, "the arrogance of the local underworld."

City hall fought back. Utica's city council threatened a tax on printing and advertising and demanded a Justice Department probe of Utica's "newspaper monopoly." Newspapermen and their families began to receive anonymous threats.

Then the editors appealed to New York's governor for support, which he gave. The papers turned over to state agencies every scrap of information available. But the editors complained that they still hadn't found a way to inspire the citizens to do anything for themselves.

Just another campaign?

Utica's papers had a hard time convincing the public that they were struggling in its behalf. Many people frowned on the papers stirring up a mess. Some argued it was only a feud between the papers and city hall and this was discouraging industries from moving into the city.

The campaign received a shot in the arm when last year the papers were awarded the Pulitzer gold medal for public service. Utica's battle, however, continued for some time.

Now let's hear the story of Don R. Mellett. He wrote a front page editorial for the Canton (Ohio) Daily News in 1926, in which he said:

"It is the opinion of the News that Canton needs cleaning up . . . Gambling and prostitution are running wide open in flagrant violation of the law . . . The ramifications of the underworld reach rather far in Canton and touch some men of considerable standing. This condition will continue as long as the police department remains incompetent and lax."

Not very complimentary

Some months later Mellett published a letter on Page 1, a letter signed by Price Janson, the respectable head of the Canton Civil Service Commission, which said in part:

"Mr. Mellett not so long ago blessed the state of Indiana by leaving it and brought to Canton, Ohio, a mouthing, slobbering, overworked jawbone and by his blackguarding, muckracking tactics has caused Canton unmeasurable harm by his publicity of scandalous matter and given to Canton an unfavorable name which the facts do not warrant . . . In a less refined, civilized society than exists here in Canton, the community would have purged itself of this nuisance by riding him out on a rail."

Three days later Mellett drove home to his wife and four small children. He was shot and killed while he was putting his car in the garage. The News promised to clean up the town—and to avenge the murder of its publisher.

This it did. It was a difficult job because the chief of police and captain of detectives were among the five convicted for Mellett's murder.

Another Housing scandal

It isn't always gambling and it isn't always large newspapers which spotlight conditions that cry out for reform.

On the masthead of the Cookeville (Tennessee) Record you'll find this motto: "What the people don't know will hurt them."

This weekly lived up to its motto in exposing the Cookeville Housing Authority. The people were informed about crooked deals and graft, despite the fact that the paper lost thousands of dollars in advertising and the editor was personally threatened.

(Did you get tired reading the stories and editorials The Sun published about the misdoings of the Contra Costa Housing Authority?)

Remember this story?

About 90 minute's drive from here is Watsonville. In 1955 a new district attorney took office and soon the Watsonville Register-Pajaronian became increasingly suspicious of him and his friends. It began investigating.

With a circulation of only 7000, the paper couldn't afford to antagonize the community. It also couldn't afford to be wrong about the new prosecutor.

But the inquiry paid off. One cold, fall midnight a reporter and photographer for the paper found the D.A. visiting a known gambler. After they had taken pictures to confirm the visit, both newspapermen were held at gun point by the gambler's henchmen. The camera was destroyed.

In the scandal that resulted, the community rallied to the paper's side. California's attorney general, Pat Brown, began an investigation. The D.A.'s principal adviser was convicted of bribery and conspiracy. The district attorney resigned.

Big or small . . .

Now here are a few paragraphs written by John Hohenberg in his new book, "The Pulitzer Prize Story:"

"It took just as much courage for the small Watsonville paper to oppose a prosecutor as was required of any large paper in fighting a governor or judge. And it has often happened that such small papers are just as effective and zealous guardians of the public welfare as any large daily.

"For every Chicago Daily News that exposes a grafting state auditor, there is a Cedar Rapids Gazette to fight corruption in its Iowa home.

"For every newspaper that has won the Pulitzer gold medal for public service, there are scores of others that have made valued contributions to honesty and integrity in government."

SANTA BARBARA was the honeymoon destination of the new Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lee Miller. She is the former Mary Jane Pigott of Pleasant Hill. —Ted Gurney photo.

Hospital Queen Hopeful Adds 'Mrs.' To Her Name

An unexpected romantic note entered the queen of the Headdress Ball contest for Children's Hospital of the East Bay when it was announced that one of its candidates has changed her name to Mrs.

Marynell Phillips, suntanned and vivacious daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Phillips of Piedmont, provided the excitement by eloping with James Carlisle Stone of San Francisco, two weeks ago.

He will now relinquish his membership in the San Francisco Bachelor's Club. The couple was married in the Carmel Mission and honeymooned in Mexico.

The new Mrs. Stone is being sponsored by Laurel Branch in the race for queen of the headdress Ball. Her mother is a member of the branch. Campaign manager for Mrs. Stone is Mrs. Russell Clinkenbeard of Piedmont.

A graduate of Piedmont High School in the class of 1955, Marynell attended Stephens College in Missouri, then flew with American Airlines out of New York, Dallas and Chicago, as an airline stewardess. Some of her other activities included modeling and ice skating.

Skating, in fact, almost became a career with her after devoting years of effort to the sport with the St. Moritz Club in Berkeley and also with ice skating clubs in New York where she lived while a stewardess.

Her father is president of a local company (Floseal corporation) and her mother active in the branch. Others in the Phillips family are Mrs. Henry Sims Wilson, Jr., of Pleasant Hill; John Phillips, a senior in high school; Sally Phillips, a junior high schol student and Lee Phillips, a second grader. All of the younger children attend Piedmont schools.

Votes for queen candidates are selling for 10 cents apiece. They may be obtained from any sponsoring branch or from the office of the branches at 731 52nd street, Oakland 9. The public is invited to participate in the race since a vote for a queen is a vote of confidence in Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

HER PARENTS' home was the setting for announcing the engagement of Alan Thurston Dunham of Canyon and Roberta Ann Miles of Oakland, formerly of Lafayette.

RESIDING IN Pleasant Hill are the new Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Tedesco. She is the former Marilyn Claire Burton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Burton of Walnut Creek.

Sisterhood To Meeting

East Bay Reciprocity Bureau, P.E.O. Sisterhood, has accepted the invitation of Chapter GX of Martinez to meet in the Congregational Church, Court and Suzanna Streets, Martinez, on Wednesday.

Amid artistic decorations arranged by the Martinez members, luncheon will be served at 12:30.

Kathryn Deane will preside at the business meeting scheduled for 1:30.

Chapter CW of Berkeley will present the afternoon program.

Humorous Hats Highlight Entry To Local Club

The following Orinda women were initiated recently as members of the Orinda Woman's Club:

The Mesdames Edward Adams, Norwood Allen, James Burchill, R. I. Cook, William Grafft, Kenneth Flanagan, Jay Foss, Robert Green, Patrick Henry, R. Bruce Hoffe, Thomas Kallam, Walter Jamond, Chris Madsen, Donald Pederson, Clyde St. John and Delbert Thompson.

As part of her initiation, each lady had to make and wear an original, funny hat depicting a suppressed desire for a different occupation.

Some of the subjects chosen were: Pet shop proprietress, bridge expert, beachcomber, landscape architect, interior decorator, Sunday painter, jazz musician, travel agent, dress designer, movie star, social butterfly, egghead, culinary expert, can-can dancer, financier, and of all things — a mother!

The audience tried to guess these suppressed activities from the hats as the new members were presented by Mrs. Henry Soubielle, woman's club membership chairman, who acted as mistress of ceremonies for the "Headdress Ball."

Miss Muller Tells Troth

The engagement of Barbara Anne Muller and Paul Edmund Batchelder was announced recently by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Muller, 52 Valley Drive, Orinda.

Paul's parents are the A. H. Batchelders of Berkeley.

Barbara was graduated from Alameda High School and she attended the University of California, where she was affiliated with the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. She also is a member of Linden Junior Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Her future husband, a graduate of Berkeley High School, plans to be gradauted from the University of California in February.

A Christmas wedding is planned.

Breakfast is Girls' Event

AA public breakfast, a budget raising event, was held by Job's Daughters of Bethel 218 Lafayette, Saturday.

Job's Daughters is an organization of girls from 12 to 20 with Masonic affiliation and this term's honored queen is Miss Gayle Erickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Erickson of Donna Maria Way, Orinda.

Papaya Branch Plans Fashion Show Wednesday

The sixth in a series of monthly fashion shows sponsored by Papaya Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay will be held Wedesday at the Villa San Ramon in San Ramon.

At noon, luncheon will be served, followed by the style show, titled "Infinity of Fashion." Furs, fall clothes and millinery plus a collection of men's fashions, will be included.

Fleta Jean Fashions of Danville and Tom Clark's Country Squire will stage the show. Commentary will be by Malcolm Short of the Yankee Sporting Goods store in Danville.

Mrs. Robert Seaton, Papaya Branch chairman, announces the following committee: Mrs. Vern Ryan, fashion show chairman; assisted by Mrs. Donald Weir; Mrs. Robert Lang, ticket chairman; Mrs. James D. Kress, decorations; Mrs. Robert E. Olson, special events; Mrs. Al Kaplan, wardrobe; and Mrs. John H. Russell, publicity. All are from the Danville - San Ramon area.

Branch models will be Mrs. Robert Olson, Mrs. John May, Mrs. James Kress, Mrs. Vern Ryan, Mrs. Donald Weir, Mrs. Robert Krull, all of Danville.

Mary Dorr To Present Book Review

Mary Dorr, formerly of KRE radio station in Berkeley, and now of Malibu, will make a flying trip to the East Bay to present a book review sponsored by Linden Junior Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Date for the "Bookalogue," as titled by members of Linden Junior, is Wednesday. A noon luncheon will precede her review to take place at the Veteran's Memorial building at 401 Highland Avenue, Piedmont.

The book she will review is unannounced.

Mrs. Dorr is a former chairman of Linden Junior Branch and has had a 20-year career in radio, television and on the lectern. She was the first California woman chosen to be in "Who's Who In American Women."

Until this summer when she and her husband, John, moved their family to Malibu in southern California, she was a resident of Orinda. While in the area, she will be the guest of the Victor Grabers of Orinda. Mrs. Graber is chairman of Linden Junior Branch.

Luncheon tables will be decorated in an autumn theme, with leaves and fruits. Small pine cone turkeys will add a whimsical note.

Honored At Tea

Mothers of members of the new pledge class were honored by the Sigma Kappa Mothers' Club at a tea Tuesday in the chapter house on Warring Street in Berkeley.

The new officers of the club, including Mrs. W. J. Jackson of Lafayette, greeted the guests at the door.

Mothers of the sorority's new pledges include Mrs. N. E. Denning of Diablo and Mrs. R. E. Echols of Lafayette.

Toy Event is By Sorority

Diablo Valley Alumnae of Alpha Xi Delta hold a dessert meeting on October 20 at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Gammon, 3214 Rohrer Drive, Lafayette.

Mrs. Pearl Swager will present Christmas toys for children. Proceeds from this event will go toward the group's philanthropy, the John Muir Hospital.

John Muir Auxiliaries Start Area Motorcades

With police escort and the blessing of the highway department, all the auxiliaries of John Muir Memorial Hospital are joining in several large automobile cavalcades to publicize the hospital's $750,000 building fund drive.

With cars both old and new, colorful signs and plenty of noise, the parade will pass through Walnut Creek, Concord, Danville, Lafayette and surrounding areas today and on the Saturday mornings of October 24 and possibly 31.

Cars will assemble at 10 a.m. in the side street near Mel's Drive-In, North Main Street, Walnut Creek, for about an hour of parading under direction of Pat Paddock of Walnut Creek, according to plans.

A recommendation that John Muir Memorial Hospital's auxiliary groups be called something other than branches, to avoid confusion with branches of Children's Hospital, was made at a recent auxiliary executive council meeting.

During consideration of alternative names, the John Muir Memorial Hospital groups are to be known as "auxiliaries," explains Mrs. Charles Hart, council advisory chairman, who conducted the council meeting at the 261 Sierra Drive home of Mrs. Royal Doty of Walnut Creek.

Named parliamentarian to coordinate bylaws of forming auxiliaries is Mrs. Hal C. Bates of Lafayette.

Mrs. Harmon Howard, chairman of women's activities, heads a nominating committee preparing for the executive council's first election of officers, to be held at the first annual general auxiliary meeting in January. Assisting her are Mrs. Frank Pigeon, Jr., of Tioga Auxiliary, Mrs. Royal Doty of Garnet Auxiliary, Mrs. Owen Williams of Tuolumne Auxiliary, and Mrs. William Sheeran of Yosemite Auxiliary.

The new executive council will decide whether the auxiliaries "Evening Under the Stars" cocktail time fashion showing should be made an annual event, considering enthusiasm of men and women guests at the September function.

Sierra Auxiliary, with open membership, meets Monday at 10 a.m. in the real estate board room on Locust Street, with advisory leaders including Mrs. Charles Hart, chairman; Mrs. George Hartwig, secretary and Mrs. Hugh Frost, treasurer.

Newly formed Garnet Auxiliary staffed the John Muir Memorial Hospital booth at the Walnut Festival, giving out literature and information on the future hospital.

This auxiliary is led by Mrs. Louis Fambrini, president; Mrs. William Egan, Mrs. Harry Katz, and Mrs. Royal Doty, first, second and third vice presidents; Mrs. Del Wilcox, secretary; and Mrs. R. M. Simison, treasurer.

Other active members are Mesdames Gerald C. Weiland, Ackely Paganini, R. Wolverton, Robert Hewitt, William Bush, Robert McCauley, George Peters, R. H. Organ, R. T. Hackett, William Reich, L. W. Anderson, J. R. Petrie, A. Laven, J. V. Lowe, O. L. Williams and Bliss Green.

Helping the hospital with proceeds from their Walnut Festival watermelon booth are members of Ahwahnee Auxiliary, temporarily led by Mrs. R. W. Curtis, chairman; Mrs. Fred Gore, secretary; Mrs. John Kalberg, treasurer; and Mrs. F. G. Sanders, publicity chairman.

A study of hospital gift shops is the project of Tenaya Auxiliary, led by Mrs. John R. Spatta, chairman; Mrs. A. C. Dippo vice chairman; Mrs. John Grant, recording secretary; Mrs. Jack Hartman, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. William B. Cox, treasurer.

Other active auxiliaries and their leaders are:

Glacier, Mrs. Edwin Laine, president; Mrs. Frank Pigeon, jr., vice president; Mrs. Marvin Daniels, membership chairman; Mrs. Jack Becker, treasurer; Mrs. Gordon Van Nuys, recording secretary; and Mrs. John Miller, corresponding secretary.

Kaweah, Mrs. Charles Scudder, president; Mesdames Robert Anderson, Larry Barker, and John A. Egan, first, second and third vice presidents; Mrs. William Schirmer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. L. Jones, recording secretary; and Mrs. E. A. Engerman, treasurer.

Tioga, Mrs. Edwin Laine, president; Mrs. Frank Pigeon, jr., vice president; Mrs. Marvin Daniels, membership chairman; Mrs. Jack Becker, treasurer; Mrs. Gordon Van Nuys, recording secretary; and Mrs. John Miller, corresponding secretary.

Yosemite, Mrs. Jack Marchant, president; Mrs. Hal C. Bates, vice president; Mrs. Horace Firth, secretary; and Mrs. William Sheeran, treasurer.

Wawona, Mrs. John Hutch, chairman; Mrs. Ralph Becker, vice chairman; Mrs. Dell Bernardi, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Fleming, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Harper, treasurer.

Tuoluomne, Mrs. O. W. Williams, chairman; Mrs. Alan Ory, vice chairman; and Mrs. Wilson Yandel, secretary.

Three other auxiliaries now forming have not yet chosen names or officers.

County Junior Leaguers Donate To Welfare Group

One hundred members of the Oakland Junior League, all of whom live "east of the tunnel" and represent 40 per cent of the entire membership, gathered recently at the Orinda Country Club.

Although these members all reside in Contra Costa County, the diversity of the league's community service was reflected by the agenda for the day.

A film designed to promote educational television developed by Station KQED under the sponsorship of the Oakland Junior League was shown.

The mobile unit from the Junior Center of Arts in Oakland, another league project, was inspected by the members.

And as a climax to the morning, Mrs. Charles E. Townsend Jr., of Orinda, president of the Oakland Junior League, presented Superior Judge Wakefield Taylor, president of the Community Welfare Council with a check for $1,000 for the printing of a directory of public and private health, welfare and recreation services in the county.

The Community Welfare Council, a United Crusade member, is an information and referral center with representatives from all of the health, recreation, family and child welfare agencies in Central and East Contra Costa County.

One of the main functions of the council is to point out duplication or unmet needs in the community.

Judge Taylor of Martinez is president of the council; Mrs. Harmon Howard of Walnut Creek is first vice president; Mrs. John Kelley of Walnut Creek is second vice president; Mrs. Tudor Jones of Walnut Creek is secretary; and Joseph H. Felice of Martinez is treasurer.

The officers of the Oakland Junior League are: Mrs. Charles E. Townsend, Jr., of Orinda, president; Mrs. Victor Millar Jr., of Piedmont, first vice president; Mrs. William R. Channell of Lafayette, second vice president; Mrs. Robert H. von der Lieth of Lafayette, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Atkinson of Oakland, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Robert Wells of Piedmont, treasurer.

Linnets Will Enter Towhee Annual Tea

Linnet Auxiliary to the Mount Diablo Therapy Center held its regular monthly meeting, poolside, in the patio of Mrs. Arch Campbell of Alamo.

Mrs. Richard Hurst, president, conducted the business meeting, with reports and discussion pertaining to the Thrift Shop at 1547 East Street, Walnut Creek.

The group decided to again participate in the annual Towhee Auxiliary's Christmas Tea.

Mrs. Edward Larmer and Mrs. Frederick Confer will decorate the table for the Linnets entry.

A buffet luncheon was served by the hostess with Mesdames Chester Hook, Fred Foster and William Preuss acting as cohostesses.

The Thrift Shop will be open as usual this weekend, with electrical appliances such as toasters, steam irons, waffle irons and clocks, all in good working condition at bargain prices.

Also there are lamp shades of all sizes and colors.

Mrs. Ralph Taylor and Mrs. Fred Mulvany, shop chairmen for October, said there are still a few men's sport coats, for late summer or early fall wear, tailored in the new styles.

Today Mrs. James Hannan and Mrs. John Basham will be in charge of sales.

Tomorrow, the Junior Linnets, with Mesdames Robert Teddy, Gale Harris and Malcolm Channing, will staff the shop.

Parlor Plans Noon Luncheon

"Luncheon is Served" will be sponsored by Las Amigas Parlor No. 311 Wednesday at the Women's Club on Lincoln Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Members and guests will be served by Dorothy Durham of San Francisco.

Chairman is Ione Knabenshuh.

Committee has Carol Nylander, Mildred Higgens, Elsie Sturns, Evelyn Larson, Connie Baer, Helen Carey, and Aretta Hughes.

Daughters to Hold Fashion Show, Lunch

"Treasured Fashions" is the title of the fashion show and luncheon planned by the Jobs Daughters of Bethel 238 of Walnut Creek, for tomorrow at Concord Inn, 1601 Willow Pass Road.

General chairmen are Senior Princess Carolyn Canty and Junior Princess Gail Smith.

In charge of decorations are Carolyn Lamb and Carol Lucas.

Heading the committee for programs will be Pat Ingersol and for tickets, Mary Wallenius.

Vicki Brodrick and Mary Hansen are in charge of publicity.

Nile Club to See a Queen

Diablo Nile Club No. 8 will hold its October meeting at the home of Mrs. H. S. Ashuckian, 3530 Hamlin Road, Lafayette, on Thursday at 8 p.m.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. H. A. Hales and Mrs. J. B. Wasson of Lafayette.

Queen Alice Urban of Nefru Ari Temple No. 17 will make her official visit to the club on November 19 at the Concord Inn, 1601 Willow Pass Road, Concord.

Papaya Branch Plans Show

"Infinity of Fashion" will be presented by Papaya Branch of Children's Hospital on October 21 at the Villa San Ramon.

These "third Wednesday" monthly shows are by fashion show chairman Gladys Ryan, assisted this month by Mrs. Donald Weir.

Fleta Jean Fashions of Danville will present lovely fall ensembles accenting colors and fabrics in accord with the "light year."

Models from Papaya Branch this month will be Mesdames Robert Olson, James Kress, John May, Vern Ryan, Donald Weir and Robert Krull of Danville.

Founders Day To be Noted

The home of Mrs. James Pangburn, 1253 Summit Road, Lafayette, will be the setting for a meeting of the Mt. Diablo Alumnae Club, Alpha Chi Omega.

On Thursday at 7:30 p.m., the local club will fete all Alpha Chi's new to the area, according to Mrs. Adrien Gensoul, president.

Also on the agenda will be the commeration of Founders Day. Alpha Chi Omega was founded at De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ind., on October 15, 1885.

Conversation during the evenings will cover the successful annual pot luck dinner held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Allen in Orinda, last month.

All Alpha Chi Omega alumnae in the Diablo area are invited to attend the meeting and may contact Mrs. James Pangburn.

Concerts Mail Drive Has Begun; You Can Apply!

The 1960 Central Contra Costa Youth Concerts will order drive is on.

Last year many people had to be turned down as the subscriptions were sold out, so tickets should be sent for immediately, said sponsors.

This year the group will bring four concerts to Walnut Creek.

The programs are geared mainly for the elementary school level, but parents can best judge if those youngsters who are younger would be able to enjoy the concerts and allow others to do so also. The price of the tickets are kept at a minimum—$3.50 a season ticket for adult and child alike.

The concerts are all held on Sunday afternoons at Las Lomas High School Auditorium. All concerts are one hour in length.

The program for the 1960 series consists of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, January 17; Alec Templeton, February 6; The Laubins, March 6, and the Roger Wagner Chorale, April 3.

Mrs. Charles F. B. Price Jr. is president of the Central Contra Costa Youth Concerts. It is through her efforts and the others that the Central Contra Costa Youth Concerts are available.

Persons who did not receive a ticket order blank through the mail may still send for tickets.

Write to Central Contra Costa Youth Concerts, Post Office Box 83, Walnut Creek.

Enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope and the tickets will be mailed out January 4, unless concert-goers wish them mailed earlier so as they may be used as Christmas gifts.

Labor Trailer Now Closed

The Farm Labor Trailer, sponsored by the State Employment Service, closed yesterday at East and Cole Streets, Walnut Creek.

Bill Shaver, who has been in charge, said this is nearly at the end of the season.

But he added there are still walnuts which haven't been picked yet, and workers should contact Oakland Farm Labor, Richmond Farm Labor or Pittsburg Farm Labor.

Area Girls to Nurse School

Several area girls are members of the largest freshman class in the 50-year history of the Samuel Merritt Hospital School of Nursing.

They are Sandra Thorp of Pleasant Hill, Ruth Steadham and Patricia Carlson of Alamo, Sharon Madsden and Nancy Dells, both of Walnut Creek; Carolyn Norris of Orinda and Suzan Randle of Lafayette.

Their program of study will cover three years.

Five-Figure Gift Offered to Muir Hospital

The first large advance gift to John Muir Memorial Hospital is a five-figure contribution establishing a recovery room, according to Edmund S. Barnett, general chairman of the hospital's $750,000 building fund drive.

This gift brings to well over $100,000 total contributions to date, he says.

"Many more large advance and memorial gifts will be necessary to reach our goal," Barnett said.

"Several pioneer families and businesses havev expressed interest in this memorial program.

"Pledges can be made over a three-year period and are tax deductible. Building a hospital is a major construction task which once accomplished will serve the area for many years," he added.

Floor plans may be seen at John Muir Memorial Hospital Headquarters, 1353 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

The non-profit, non-denominational hospital will be built on a centrally located 10-acre Ygnacio Valley site near Walnut Creek.

Home Ec 'Horizons' Is Oct. 28 at Las Lomas

Some 127 girls selected from each of East Contra Costa County's high school will be guests at the second annual "Career Horizons in Home Economics" reception at Las Lomas High School on October 28 at 3:30.

Sponsor is the Diablo Valley Chapter of Home Economists in Homemaking.

Purpose is to acquaint promising young women with types of work in the home economics field, according to Mrs. Milton Guilieri of Walnut Creek, president of the local organization.

Also invited to attend the afternoon session are the girls' mothers, principals, deans of girls and home economics teachers from the high schools represented.

Speakers will include Janet Winters, home economics instructor, San Francisco State College; Willa Schmidt, University of California instructor and home economist for McCalls Patterns; Margaret Brown, therapeutic dietition, Alameda County Hospital.

Mary Williams, home advisor, University of California Agricultural Extension Service, Pittsburg; Annabel Post, home economist for Sunset magazine, and Ardith Steger, homemaker and former home economics teacher and home advisor.

The group is composed of graduate home economists, who are now "at home" with their families. Aim of the organization is to maintain contact with recent home economics developments and engage in community service.

Chairwoman for the reception is Mrs. Philip Sinnott of Lafayette.

Committee heads are Mesdames William Deaton, Danville program; Melville Elliott, Lafayette, refreshments; Robert Knighton, Oakland, decoration; Gordon Thomas, Danville, invitations; Donald Lister, Walnut Creek, reception.

Errors in Stamps Is Club Topic

Diablo Valley Stamp Club members will hear Paul Brenner tell about errors in stamps, Thursday night at 8 in the Pleasant Hill Recreation Center.

The public is invited.

And at their next meeting, November 12, they will confer with members of the East Bay Collectors Club of Oakland—same time and place.

The club, which was formed about four months ago, will hold elections in December, according to President William Thaler of Lafayette.

PREP FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS TODAY

Up to now the preps have been playing practice games and shifting personnel plus limited offense have been the order of the day.

That all changes now as the chips are down with league play on tap and the grid mentors have polished and added plays while planning surprises in today's league openers. In short, Play Ball!!!

Las Lomas draws the bye in the Foothill Division opening today while Miramonte plays Piedmont this afternoon at Orinda and all other teams go under the lights at 8 p.m.

Mats Open Vs, Scots In Orinda

Play gets underway in the Foothill Division this afternoon when Piedmont plays at Miramonte in a 3:30 tilt that finds the invading Highlanders as heavy favorites to superior speed plus a host of good reserves.

Piedmont in four practice tilts has won all but one game—that a 26-13 loss to Pleasant Hill.

In other outings they waxed Fremont 26-6, Oakland High 38-20 and Alhambra of Martinez 34-0.

MIRAMONTE ON the other hand has had four setbacks losing to Clayton Valley, 26-0; Pacifica 26-21; Albany 26-0 and Livermore 19-6.

Coach Bob Muenter is high on his charges and feels they are ready to go all out while Coach Bob Brooks of Miramonte has been dissatisfied with early week workouts.

Piedmont's announced lineup for this afternoon opener is as follows: Russ Leavitt, LE, Hugh Crumpler, LT, Kenny White, LG, John McDonald, C, George Conn, RG, Ken Ambrose, RT, Mike Muller, RE.

BACKFIELD is Rod Church, QB, Bobby Jones, F, John Pfeffer and Pete Jacobs, LH, Doug McVean, RH.

Miramonte starters are LE Al Geissler, LT Rob McLeod, LG Jack Putman, C, Charles Pfeifer, RG Mason Fries, RT Jim Boyd, RE Paul Pfeifer, QB Sandy Tharman, LF Bruce Hancock, RH Steve Abbot, F Charles Blue.

Game time, 3:30 p.m.

Acalanes Faces San Ramonians In Wolvesville

Acalanes faces San Ramon under the Danville lights tonight.

This figures to be a rock and sock affair with the Dons holding an edge in speed and the Danville eleven an edge in weight.

SAN RAMON HAS several on the doutbful list with Chuck Riddell a 230 pound tackle laid low for the second week in a row with a virus infection while Dick Needham, an end and linebacker, has an ailing ankle. The third casualty is Mel Deendorf, a center, who has a banged up thumb.

Coach Marvy Ashy reported a good workout Monday spirited in part by the Wolves' smashing win over Amador High of Pleasanton.

In games to date, San Ramon lost its opener to Pleasant Hill 34-2, then came back nailing Liberty of Brentwood 26-7, dropping a toughie to Livermore 13-6 and wound up the practice season with a smashing 41-0 win over Amador.

The Acalanes grid machine stuttered and sputtered for three quarters against Pacifica last Friday night before putting the visiting Spartans in orbit with a three touchdown fourth quarter output that registered the win.

The Dons, according to head coach Bob Stevens and his assistant Buzz Williams, are ready and willing except for Jim Holden, the fullback, who has a gimpy leg and may see limited action as a result.

IN FOUR GAMES to date, the Dons have split with a pair of wins and losses.

Eagle Claw Waiting for Ram 11

Pleasant Hill opens tonight in its home grounds in a Contra Costa Division game with Clayton Valley, a surprise club, furnishing what appears to be plenty of opposition.

The Pleasant Hill Rams are undefeated, but tied to date. The tie came last Friday night in a 6-6 game at Las Lomas.

OTHER THAN the tie, the Rams to date have defeated San Ramon 34-2, Acalanes 14-7, and Piedmont 26-13.

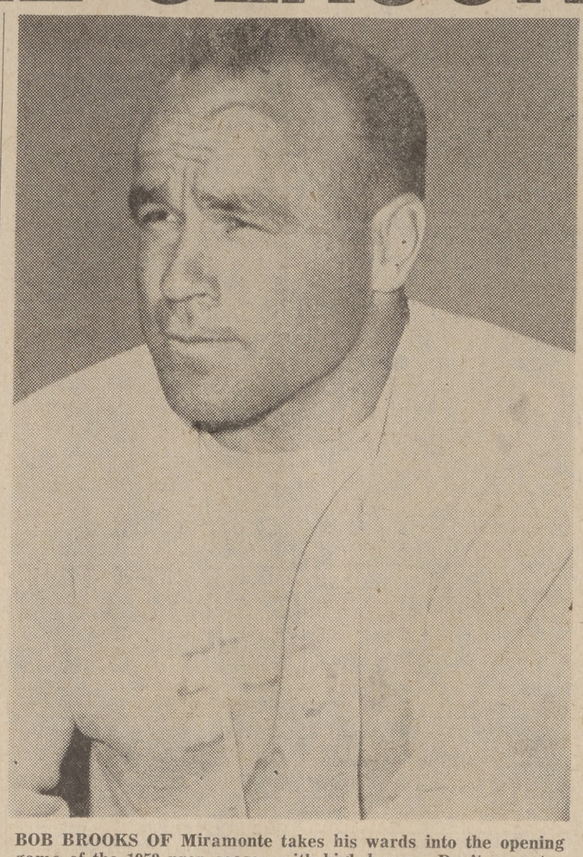

The Rams are hurting with guard and ace defensive player Jim Hinds, a regular guard and linebacker, a doubtful starter due to a hip pointer while halfback Dave Shepherd may not be ready due to a sprained ankle incurred in the final quarter of the Las Lomas game.

Guard George Bruns is also doubtful due to a pinched neck nerve.

THE RAMS still rate the favorite spot tonight as they figure to have too much up front for Clayton Valley.

Head Coach Hal Briggs released the following starting lineup:

LE Dan O'Brien, LT Mike Ryan, LG Stephen Swarthart, C Roger Levy or Les Busch, RG Terry Schutten, RT Walter Dathe, RE Dick Dole, QB Jim Maples, LH Bill Bjerre, RH Tom Webb, F Roger Foulk.

BOB BROOKS OF Miramonte takes his wards into the opening game of the 1959 prep season with high hopes. Don't expect a win over Piedmont today, but the Matadors will find their way to victory this season. —Sun photo by Mattson.

Bob Brooks, Miramonte, Faces Tough Row Ahead

Bob Brooks, the youthful and popular grid mentor at Miramonte High, impresses one with his sharp observations and gives a feeling of experience far beyond his years—probably because of his own fine athletic background.

Bob attended Chino High in Southern California, where he was a four-letter winner.

SMALL IN SIZE (148 pounds as a senior), he made all league as an outstanding halfback in his senior year, when the team went undefeated and won the Southern California championship in its school division.

He lettered in basketball as a forward, won a monogram in tennis and found time plus ability to letter in track, where he ran the 100-yard dash and the 440.

After high school graduation Bob entered Mt. San Antonio Junior College, where he played as a halfback on the grid team before moving to the University of California, where he rated as a fine running back on Pappy Waldorf's 1951 and 1952 teams.

HE GRADUATED in '53 and went into the Navy for two years and then went back to Cal for graduate work in 1956.

Brooks came to Miramonte High in 1957 and has served as a physical education instructor in addition to his duties as varsity football coach, head wrestling coach and an assistant track coach.

He is married to the former Marilyn Van Hueit, who not so long ago was principal of the Canyon Elementary School. She has given up teaching in order to devote her time to their four-and-a-half-month-old son, Paul Ryan.

THE BROOKS maintain their home in Clayton, which they like for its rustic and country appearance.

Bob is rated as one of the coaches who has done one of the season's best jobs. The Miramonte gridders have played some outstanding ball and only the lack of reserves due to a shallow 22-man squad prevents them from being a top contender.

The Matadors have proven they are no setup with their wide open offense and a defense that can be sturdy when all hands are well and able.

Brooks is enjoying the grid season, but speaks of wrestling with a gleam in his eye as he has a team loaded with veterans who are favored to win the Foothill Division mat title.

Feature Hardtop Closes Season At Pacheco Oval

Newly crowned champion Johnny Franklin leads the field trying for a berth in tomorrow night's 18-car, 50-lap feature hardtop race, which closes the year's action at Contra Costa Speedway.

Franklin finished sixth in the main event over the past weekend but the road to the title was made easier when his closest pursuer, Napa's Gene Dudley, ran sour and failed to finish the race.

The final Bay Cities Racing Association point standings show Franklin with 808, Dudley with 769, followed by defending champion Wally Baker, Sacramento, winner of Saturday's trophy dash, at 745.

Rounding up the top 10 are Le Roy Geving, Petaluma, 706; Ted Gratriex, Napa, 580; Pee-Wee Waybright, Oakland, 537; Chet Thomson, San Lorenzo, 486; Julian Castro, San Francisco, 458; Ted Montague, Hayward, 409; and Steve Mentch, Oakland, 404. Thomson, second in the main behind Waybright, moved ahead of Castro and Montague overtook Mentch as the point race closed.

Waybright, a popular veteran behind the wheel, was roundly cheered winning the main event, the first for the diminutive pilot since 1957, when he captured three of them and was runnerup to Dudley in the driver championship.

Vallejo's Bill Maher, 1953 and 1954 champion who won his second 15-lap semi, is due back for Saturday's final card this year at the quarter-mile strip near Walnut Creek.

Knights Tie Ram-blers In Big Game of Week

The Las Lomas Knights came up with a top game last Friday night at Walnut Creek to stop the vaunted Pleasant Hill Rams and gain a well-earned upset 6-6 tie.

The Rams are still undefeated, but breathing hard as a result of the close call.

HARD PLAY featured the game, which, in particular, found the Knights defensive unit at their best as they limited the visitors to two first downs while gathering 15 of their own.

The Rams wound up with 55 yards net rushing to the Knights' 173. In the air, the Rams had one pass completion good for six yards in five attempts, while Las Lomas hit on five of eight tries for 86 yards.

The clubs battled to a scoreless first half with both teams threatening but never reaching the important end stripe.

THE RAMS BROKE the ice as they capitalized on a break with 2:22 gone in the third quarter. The visitors had kicked off to the Knights and then held them for three downs.

Back in punt formation, the Knights' punter dropped the ball and guard Jim Hinds scooped it up and raced to the end zone.

That ended the scoring until the final 35 seconds when the Knights' ace fullback, Mike Hair, punched it over from four yards out to throw the game into a 6-6 tie, and that's the way it ended.

Bob Morris kicked wide on the conversion try.

Dons Win On Late Burst

The Acalanes Dons, playing at home, put on a whirlwind finish to pull one out of the fire as they racked the Pacifica Spartans, 32-21, thanks to a three-touchdown outburst in the final period.

Pacifica took the lead by driving 63 yards in 12 plays in the opening quarter, with fullback Bill Mattson carrying it over from a yard out. Mattson hit pay dirt again for the conversion try on a slash off tackle.

THE DONS ROARED back with a 71-yard drive in six plays with halfback Tom Strain covering the final four yards.

Bill Jencks kicked the conversion and it was a 7-7 tie, but not for long as Pacifica's Jim Hicks took the kickoff on a double reverse and went 82 yards to score standing up, and Mattson again carried the conversion try to put an even 14 points on the scoreboard.

The fans weren't in their seats long enough to settle down as Don halfback Chris Rinne took the kickoff and displayed dazzling speed and broken field running to go the distance.

OTHER SCORES came when Pacifica went 70 yards in 11 plays after the second half kickoff, with quarterback Barry Neeley covering the final 33 yards. Mattson added point 21 as he bucked over tackle.

Rinne scored two touchdowns in the final canto, one on a seven-yard sprint around left end and another on a 40-yard dash around the right flank.

Fullback Jim Holden added a touchdown in between, driving three yards up the middle.

Jencks converted on Rinne's first score but was wide on the next two, making the final count Acalanes 32, Pacifica 21.

Matadors Game, But Lose, 19-6

The Miramonte Matadors put up a game but losing battle at Livermore last Friday night when they lost, 19-6, after giving the Cowboys a rough go all the way.

A speed burner fullback, Ruben Garcia, did the big damage as he scored a pair of touchdowns and toted the pigskin for 133 yards in 13 tries.

MIRAMONTE SCORED in the first quarter by putting on a sustained 72-yard drive with fullback Charles Blue hitting for six points from four yards out.

Livermore scored single touchdowns in the second and third quarters to wind up the scoring.

The Matadors threatened in the third period only to lose the ball on a fumble on the 14-yard stripe.

Olde Professor Draws Ire Of Sports Dept. Again

By SOSS OPPLES

Practice games are over and it's down to business and the end of experimentation as prep elevens turn full attention to league play which starts this afternoon and tonight.

Las Lomas which up and surprised some with a terrific output against undefeated Pleasant Hill to end up with a 6-6 draw, has a bye this week.

The Acalanes Dons play at San Ramon tonight and this is a big one for both clubs. San Ramon rolled to an easy win over the hapless Amador Dons of Pleasanton last week, but the Acalanes Dons could be much tougher. It's out on the long, long limb again—the Dons 13, San Ramon High Wolves, 7.

Piedmont plays at Orinda this afternoon and while Coach Bob Brooks has done a terrific job with the Miramonte Matadors, he can't cope with the Highlander's speed plus reserves. Tab Piedmont, 34-6.

Pittsburg plays at Diablo and hands the Devils their first defeat 20-6.

Pleasant Hill had its pride hurt when the Las Lomas Knights upset them with a tie. Clayton Valley undefeated gets nailed in this one as coach Hal Briggs fires his charges with memories of last Friday's game. The final tally will show Pleasant Hill on top 20-12.

The University of California plays UCLA down south and this is the long, long, long shot of the week. Cal, 14, UCLA, 13.

University of Southern California plays Washington and wins 20-7 while Stanford topples Washington State as they get their aerial game going on a dry field 26-21 in a wide open game.

The 49ers get back in gear as they topple the Detroit Lions 29-26. In the Big Ten, Illinois, a team to watch, starts a Rose Bowl climb as they nail Minnesota, 20-6.

(Sports Department Note: With all due respect to your crystal balling, may the sports staff call the correct shots for a change.

Acalanes over San Ramon; Piedmont over Miramonte; Pittsburg over Diablo; Pleasant Hill over Clayton Valley; UCLA over Cal; USC over Washington; Stanford over the Cougars; San Francisco over the Lions; Illinois downed by Minnesota in a debacle.

MIKE HAIR
'Prep of Week'

Hair Named Week's Prep

Mike Hair is one of the reasons Las Lomas has come so far along this year.

The powerful, 190-pound senior is not only big, but he is fast—fast enough to sweep the ends and gallop like a fleet halfback once he gets in the open.

Mike has been an outstanding guard the last two seasons and was converted to fullback at the start of the 1959 season by new head coach Duane Louis.

To say that he has adapted himself well is to put it mildly as he has torn off huge chunks of yardage game after game and is the club's top scorer.

He is the workhorse of the backfield and is a top candidate for all division honors as he is the kind of player that opponents and coaches recall.

Piedmont Crush Alhambra Eleven

Piedmont High put the crusher on Alhambra when the well-drilled eleven coasted by the Bulldogs, 34-0, scoring single touchdowns in every quarter and an extra one in the second period to make the score 20-0 at the half.

Bobby Jones, all division fullback for Piedmont in '58, was a standout as he rolled up yardage and a pair of touchdowns.

TACKLE HUGHES Crumpler made good on four out of five conversion kicks.

Wolverines Win Over Amador

San Ramon had things all its own way last Friday night at Pleasanton as the Wolves ran and passed their way to an easy 41-0 win over the hapless Amador Dons.

The Wolves scored three times in the opening quarter and one touchdown in each of the remaining periods. Quarterback Casey Evans made good on five of six conversion attempts.

Sports Scribe Picks Champs in DVAL

By ERWIN MATTSON

The prep league grid play starts today and as usual the big question is who will win the various leagues.

The Diablo Valley Athletic League has three divisions and here goes a pick for each:

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

THE FOOTHILL Division as expected looks to be a tight one. San Ramon has been an in and outer. Seems to lack consistency and could win or lose to any club in the five team circuit.

Las Lomas has come fast and has adequate size but still lacks experienced personnel. Chances are they will make a stronger bid than anyone expected. They will do their share of upsetting.

Acalanes lacks backfield depth and again is a club that lacks consistency. League play could provide them with a steady spark. Lack of backfield depth hurts here.

Miramonte has real depth problems and while Coach Bob Brooks has done a fine job with the material on hand his eleven has a rough row to hoe as they will be outmanned in depth in every contest. Look for them to upset someone along the way.

PIEDMONT HAS had but one set back to date and that a power laden Pleasant Hill. Piedmont has experience, ample size and speed.

They look to be the best bet to win it all although the road to the mythical pennant would be a rough one.

In the Contra Costa Division it looked to be the Pleasant Hill Rams, but injuries to key players have hurt them in vital spots.

The latest one is a turned ankle on Dave Shepherd the Rams hard running half. The Pleasant Hill group is not too deep in reserve strength and much depends on whether or not they can bounce back after so many key players have been sidelined. Lack of a real passing attack has hampered them.

DIABLO HIGH won last year and are undefeated this season. Overlooked in early season ratings they could surprise.

Antioch appears mediocre and while troublesome the Panthers hardly rate as contenders.

Clayton Valley has grown up fast and could well wind up in the top three. They could decide the championship depending on who they beat.

Pacifica has real depth problems and while they are hustlers, they lack size and personnel to go all the way.

Pittsburg always rates as a threat and while they are having internal troubles they will be rough with league play on top. The town is football hungry and the kids are afraid not to be.

A NEW COACH and discipline problems have set them back.

The winner and this is a tough pick—It's a tie between Pleasant Hill and Pittsburg. The Rams whole and healthy could go the route. Much depends here on how soon key personnel return.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

In the Eastbay division, tab Livermore which has a fine team and is really playing out of its class. They have outgrown the division in size and quality. Albany and Alhambra figure to give them the most run for their money while John Swett, Liberty of Brentwood and Amador should finish in that order.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

This is really the last year of the Foothill Division membership in the Diablo Valley Athletic League.

They were recently given permission by the league to withdraw and set up a league of their own.

THE REQUEST was passed on the North Coast Section Saturday. The necessary approval was granted and the present member schools plus Alhambra High of the Eastbay Division will form the new set up.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

The representatives meet this morning to set up schedules and choose a new name. The best bet is probably Foothill League.

Look for a further split in the DVAL before long. They have growing pains and will continue to as long as Contra Costa continues to grow as fast as it is.

Tee Off Today In Babe Benefit Golf Tournament

Golfers throughout the county will tee off today in the first annual state-wide Babe Didrikson Memorial Fund Tournament, according to Don Doten, county chairman of the 10-day event.

Tickets at $2 each will give local golfers the opportunity to match their handicap scores against those of top professionals, and all proceeds will go to the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Memorial Fund of the American Cancer Society, Doten said.

A TICKET ALSO will admit holders to the gallery of the Northern California exhibition match to close the tournament on Sunday, October 25, when Ken Venturi, Jackie Pung, Harvie Ward and James Garner, of "Maverick" fame, will play at Harding Park Golf Course in San Francisco. The exhibition match will get underway at 1:30 p.m.

Anyone may enter the tournament, and tickets and score sheet may be obtained at any of the nine golf clubs participating in Contra Costa county. These are:

Orinda Country Club, Contra Costa Country Club, Richmond Golf Club, Tilden Park Golf Club, Pittsburg Golf and Country Club, Meadowbrook Golf Club, Antioch Golf Club, Mira Vista Country Club and Diablo Country Club.

GOLFERS WITHOUT an established handicap will be rated by the Galloway system. Any number of entries may be made, with the lowest score posted. Men players will vie with the exhibition match score of Ken Venturi and women players with that of Jackie Pung.

Sponsored by all amateur and professional golf associations, the tournament will provide funds for research, lifesaving education and day-to-day service to patients, in the year-round program conducted by the American Cancer Society.

America's greatest woman athlete, Babe Didrikson, was herself a victim of the disease, and the memorial fund event was established first by her and later by her husband, George Zaharias.

Young Girl Beats Golfers

A nine-year-old Walnut Creek girl sank a 100-yard hole in one, shaming her daddy and the men competitors at a Four Corners golf range last week.

Jean Roach went along for the practice when her dad, Howard Roach of 2354 Walnut Boulevard, went to the range to compete for a $250 hole-in-one prize.

Her swing was the only one which landed a ball in the cup, amazing spectators.

Elementary Grid Season Opens in PH

The Pleasant Hill Recreation District Elementary football season began recently at the Pleasant Hill Intermediate School playground.

Teams competing are from Gregory Gardens, Strandwood, Fair Oaks, Oak Park, Diablo Vista and Pleasant Hill Elementary. All playgrounds have three teams competing in the league. Schedules of the league games are posted at each playground.

In addition to the inter-playground games, many of the playgrounds have intermural games. Gregory Gardens playground has their intermurals scheduled each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. For playground schedules see recreation leaders.

The Pleasant Hill Intermediate eighth Grade Recreation football team won its opening game of the season by downing Stone Valley of Alamo 22-6.

Richard Marsh ran a punt back 80 yards for the first touchdown. Peter Hall crashed over center for eight yards for the second touchdown, and Hurley Davis ran the opening kick off of the second half back for 65 yards for the third touchdown.

Bill Moler scored the extra point on passes from Mike Hayes. Defensive standouts were Jerry Cook and Hurley Davis as guards, Roger Mower and Frank Brazeal at ends, Bob Haworth at center.

Girls Play 'Kickball'

Girls in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades completed last Friday at the Pleasant Hill Park in a kick-ball league.

All elementary playgrounds took part.

The seventh and eighth grade girls will organize and play other intermediate schools of the area.

Back to Standard Danger to Drivers

Return to standard time is adding an additional hazard for motorists driving home from work, Captain Russel R. Magill of the Contra Costa area office of the California Highway Patrol noted today.

"All during the summer, the family breadwinner generally had broad daylight in which to combat homeward bound traffic," Magill said.

"But with the change from daylight saving time to standard time, dusk is beginning to fall as most workers leave for home.

"Dusk is a dangerous driving period, as every experienced driver knows, but sometimes motorists fail to adjust to the decreasing light. The result, much too often, is a late arrival for dinner—if the motorist is lucky enough to get home at all."

Captain Magill pointed out that state law prohibits the use of parking lights as driving lights, and said the highway patrol will be particularly alert to violations of this provision of the vehicle code.

Ye Olde Professor Soss Opples Is Pushing the Law of Averages

When they fall, they really fall big, or, to put it bluntly, the bigger they are, the harder they fall.

And we are really expecting the Olde Prof, Soss Opples, to fall at an early date, because no human being can remain as sharp as he has been in prognasticating football scores for very long.

Despite all the upsets the infant grid season has seen thus far, Soss Opples boasts an overall .788 scoring average for the season, and each week his average has been higher.

Take last week, for example, Olde Soss picked 11 out of 13 correctly, missed on one and tied on the other—the Pleasant Hill-Las Lomas tilt.

That's an .884 batting average to go along with the .623 percentage he registered the first week and the .857 recorded the second week.

Keep up the good work, professor, someday you may be a crying coach.

Buck Rogers Arrives In Classrooms

Parents who are fighting a losing battle to keep up with little Johnny's expanding knowledge are in for another blow — from new state science testbooks which teach elementary grade children about space travel and other up-to-the-minute scientific developments, according to a consultant.

Subjects covered by the new series and the grades at which they are taught were described to the Contra Costa County Board of Education by Miss Mary Durkin, consultant in elementary education.

Miss Durkin recalled that the series was adopted by the state on the recommendation of groups of teachers, including committees at Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek and Antioch.

The local teachers highly commended the series on the basis of actual classroom experience. The consultant exhibited an analysis chart of subject matter as related to grade level.

She also showed science booklets from a series of 83 which will serve as supplemental material, as requested by teachers.

Closely linked with the study of science is a new health education text, on which Byron (Barney) Cross, consultant in health, physical education and recreation, reported to the board.

It includes a textbook and teacher's guide at each grade level.

Unique features cited by the consultants are suggestions for scientific experiments, summaries of chapters and subjects, complete indexes which children can use and lists of new words for spelling and vocabulary.

Scout Committees Hold Meetings

Roger Bales, scout executive of the Mt. Diablo Council Boy Scouts of America, said the Quarterly Conference of Operating Committees held at Acalanes High School, October 5, was a success.

Fifty-five Scouters representing all committees served by the council took part in major committee workshop discussions.

Discussions centered around achievement of 1959 objectives.

Committees represented were camping, health and safety, advancement, leadership training, activities, finance and public relations.

Catering Firm Names Manager

Harold Bloom has been named manager of sales and public relations for the new Goodman's Jack London Hall, 10 Jack London Square, Oakland.

Jack London Hall is a second location for the East Bay catering firm, which has been located in Oakland since 1939.

The hall accomodates seated banquets up to 1000 persons and up to 2000 persons for receptions. Goodman's Catering Service also serves banquets, luncheons, buffets, wedding dinners, receptions, cocktail parties, breakfasts and barbecue picnics.

Heart Group Offers Book On Child Care

The Contra Costa County Heart Association has offered help to parents with the task of caring for a sick child with a booklet, "Home Care of the Child with Rheumatic Fever."

It is a 24-page illustrated booklet prepared especially for parents of youngsters for whom hospital treatment is either not advised or not available. Copies are available on request.

This is a companion piece to "Have Fun . . . Get Well," the popular Heart Association publication on recreational activities for the sick in bed, also available for those needing suggestions on how to keep a child happy while convalescing.

Girl Scouts Will Offer Local Cookie

A Bay Area bakery, "Mothers," was chosen to supply the Mt. Diablo Area Girl Scout Council's 1960 cookie, last week.

The council's board members voted 12-1 for the local cookie, ending a controversy where it was feared that San Francisco teamsters would not support the United Crusade unless a local cookie were chosen.

Last year the council chose an Oklahoma cookie, when only one Bay Area firm submitted samples for the cookie taste tests and was found wanting. This year two local firms submitted samples and the cookie finally chosen was found to be quite tasty, said directors.

During the discussions, a council finance committee member submitted his resignation because only the local firm's cookies were taste-tested this year and a director offered her formal protest.

Three types of cookies will be offered this year—Danish variety, mints and assorted sandwiches.

The directors also considered including almonds with the cookies and Products Chairman Janet Kaufman said she had been contacted by a firm offering slivered, whole raw and whole salted almonds.

Neighborhood chairmen will be consulted.

Mrs. Vera Freeman, council president, said,

"Although the council is a member of the United Crusade and receives most of its operating expenses from the Crusade, all camp improvements are made on profits from the sale of calendars in November and cookies in April.

"We think our area can be justly proud that profits from these sales has also paid for the Twin Camp Canyon Day Camp site at the end of Springhill Road in Lafayette—has paid for capital improvements at Sierra Woodlands—and is buying the house used as Girl Scout headquarters in Lafayette," she said.

Fees are Listed

Trailer coach fees in Contra Costa County for the period from January to June amounted to $61,155.

This compares with Alameda County's $66,242.

School Office Group Meets

The first meeting of the Contra Costa County Association of Educational Office Employees was held at the John Muir School, Martinez, October 6.

Mrs. Alice Treece of the Pleasant Hill High School presided. A report on the membership committee was given by Chairman, Mrs. Betty Lopey.

Mrs. Ellen Coburn, program chairman, gave a report on the program.

Appointed were Mrs. May Gerz, John Swett High School, nominating committee; Mrs. Wilma Loggie, Danville School, parliamentarian; Mrs. Lena Cerri, Montecito School, Martinez, publicity.

Unique Bachelor's Home Brings Honor to Orindan

By LARRY GLAZIER

An interestingly unique two-bedroom home designed for a Mill Valley bachelor has brought fame to a young Orinda architect.

On the cover of the October issue of Sunset magazine—an issue devoted to a report on the award-winning Western homes of 1959-60—there appears the two-story living room of a home designed by Lee Stuart Darrow, 91 Loma Vista Drive.

THE TWO-YEAR-OLD Mill Valley home which Darrow designed for Alyn Reid received one of five honor awards in the second biennial Western Home Awards competition co-sponsored by Sunset and the three Western districts of the American Institute of Architects.

There were only 30 awards presented in all—13 awards of merit and 12 special awards in addition to the five top honor awards, which went to three custom-designed homes, including Darrow's, a builder home and a mountain cabin.

But more impressive is the fact that of the 30 winners selected from the nearly 300 entries in the competition, only Darrow's was a unanimous honor award selection of the distinguished seven-man jury.

THE JURY, WHICH met in Menlo Park for several days to select the winning homes, included Vladimir Ossipoff, Honolulu architect and jury chairman; Hugh A. Stubbins, Cambridge, Mass., architect; Neil A. Connor, director of the architectural standards division of the Federal Housing Administration.

Also Alexander Girard, Santa Fe, N.M., architect - designer; Proctor Mellquist, editor of Sunset; Thomas Church, San Francisco landscape architect-author; and Paul Hayden Kirk, Seattle architect who won three honor awards for homes in the 1957 competition.

Darrow, a 32-year-old Azusa product, said he was especially proud that all of the "very distinguished" jurors felt that his entry deserved a top spot.

THE ORINDAN explained that he entered the home in the competition because he felt it is "an outstanding home and presented many site problems for the architect."

Modestly, Darrow continued that Reid worked with him for many hours during the production of the drawings.

Darrow's own Orinda home was featured in the San Francisco Chronicle's Bonanza section about six months ago, and the same Mill Valley residence was published in Bonanza about two months after that.

AS A RESULT of the Sunset award, Darrow has appeared on television news programs on two different occasions and shortly after the magazine hit local newsstands he appeared on Marge Trumbell's "Closeup" show on Channel 4.

The Sunset winning entries are now being exhibited at Bullock's in Los Angeles, the White House in San Francisco and another department store in Seattle, and within a couple of weeks, the exhibits will be moved to department stores in smaller cities, including Oakland, Bakersfield, Fresno and possibly Walnut Creek.

Also, as a winner, Darrow had to make up a Masonite exhibit of pictures and plans of the Mill Valley home for shipment to Honolulu, where all of the winners are being displayed at the Pacific Rim Conference this week.

He was to have received his award at the Hawaiian conference Monday, but was unable to make the long trip and will receive the honor through the mail.

DARROW, A WORLD War II Navy veteran, realized his lifetime ambition of having his own private office June 1, when he set up a practice in Oakland.

He is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, having received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1951 and his Master of Arts, after studying under the famed Eric Mendelsohn at Cal, the following year.

He and his wife have lived in Orinda the last five years. They have one son, Brian, 18 months old.

Orinda Tennis Club Wins Country Club Net Match

The Orinda Tennis Club defeated the Orinda Country Club netters, 11-10 in competition at the country club last Sunday.

Ladies of the country club provided a luncheon for the participants, and plans were initiated for a return match in the near future.

Friends of Local Library Formed, Hold 1st Meeting

Enthusiastic support of the newly-formed "Friends of the Orinda Library" was much in evidence at the midweek coffee-meet at the home of Mrs. Clay Sorrick.

At the recommendation of the Orinda Library Board, a nucleus of Orinda women met to launch the library group, to be affiliated with the national body of which there are some 400 organizations in the country.

MEMBERS OF the Friends of the Orinda Library group will be general members of the Orinda Library Board Incorporated and will participate in the annual meeting of the board.

"Friends" will help in interpreting the library, its resources and its needs to the community.

Attending the meeting on Tuesday were Mesdames Roger Stark, Edward Adams, Odie Monahan, Joseph Rupley, James Chapple, Donald Krotz, Arthur Bowron, John Madison, Ward Ingrim, E. J. Unruh, Wallace C. Riddell Jr., K. L. Courtright, Wellington Ray, Paul Pollaczek, Spencer Archer and Beach Dean.

ADDITIONAL ORINDA women present at the initial meeting at which Mrs. Bertha Hellum, county librarian, spoke, were the Mesdames Raffi Bedayn, Frederick Anderson, James Benney, Frederick Mulvany, William Howe, Miles Hudson, Harold Jones, George Hauerken, Dwight Chapman and Clay Sorrick.

Those interested in becoming a member of "Friends of the Orinda Library" group may call Mrs. Clay Sorrick, CL 4-2121 or Mrs. Miles Hudson, CL 4-3545.

Orindans To Meet In San Francisco

Two Orindans will be among the 45 men from 13 Northern California counties who will meet in San Francisco Thursday for a general meeting of the board of directors of Hanna Boys' Center, the western "Boys' Town" near Sonoma.

They are Robert P. Raskob, 48 Charles Hill Road, and Donald L. Dullum, 201 La Espiral.

Cub Pack 57 Will Observe Birthday

Orinda Cub Pack 57 will make plans for observance of the golden anniversary of Scouting at its first pack meeting of the school year at Miramonte High School, Tuesday, October 20, at 7:30 p.m.

According to Don Truax, membership chairman, boys 8 to 10 years of age in the Del Rey and Donald L. Rheem schools are invited to join Pack 57 and are urged to attend this first meeting with their parents. Additional information may be obtained by calling Truax at CL 4-5117.

An athletic program including instruction and competition in sports will be directed by Alfred Canale, assistant Cubmaster, on Saturday mornings.

Parents Will Attend Classes

Miramonte High School parents will switch roles with their children Monday evening, when they run through an abbreviated schedule of a typical school-day during the annual Back-to-School Night conducted by the Miramonte Parents Club.

Club President Mel Arighi has warned all parents to arrive promptly at 7:45 p.m. in the school gym so "classes" can begin on schedule. He has turned down the suggestion that tardy parents be required to bring an excuse signed by their children.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL Night has proven to be one of the most popular events in the parents' club calendar, and a near-capacity attendance is expected.

Participating parents should bring a list of the classes their children attend each day so they'll be able to go to the appropriate classes in proper sequence.

There will be seven 10-minute periods, corresponding to the school-day classes. Teachers will be present in each classroom to explain the objectives and procedures in their respective courses.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria immediately following the last period.

Scientists Sought for Local Group

"Mathematicians, life scientists and earth scientists are needed," according to the staff recruitment committee for the Orinda Science Seminar.

The committee feels that chemists and physicists will be available, but are worried whether enough other scientists can be found.

MEMBERS OF the committee are Dr. Paul Slattery, Dr. D. W. Hilger, Walter Haefele, M. W. Loveland, Stanley Thompson, Chester O'Konski and Rudolf Grah, all of Orinda.

The Orinda Science Seminar is a program that will offer to the outstanding students of Miramonte High School an opportunity to study under outstanding scientists, engineers, doctors and mathematicians of the community.

The Orinda Science Seminar Committee met Monday at Miramonte High School to make some final plans for the program.

MRS. RICHARD Leland, Walter Haefele and Robert Campbell were elected to the board of directors.

Robert Campbell, chairman of the science department of Miramonte High School, is now interviewing students and studying their records preparing to select the students that will be offered the opportunity to participate in this program.

Columbus might never have discovered the new world if his name had been Tom, Dick or Harry. The World Book Encyclopedia reports that he was named after Saint Christopher, patron saint of sailors and travelers.

Valley Art Center Model To Be On View Tonight

The model of the Valley Art Center's proposed building on Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette will be shown at a reception to be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Fletcher B. Taylor, 3697 Nordstrom Rd., Lafayette, today from 7 to 9 p.m.

The proposed building is with rental gallery and works of planned for an artists market local artists and an all purpose room to serve as a gallery, classrooms, art movies and lectures, meetings of organizations, including the Children's Cooperative Art Association, Diablo Weavers, Modern Dance Group and others.

David Thorne, gifted Berkeley architect, has made use of light structural framing and wide expanses of glass to obtain unusual features.

Spectacular cantilever stairs are a practical solution to the two story building. Complete openness with no bearing walls to clutter interiors have become his trademark.

As soon as additional funds are subscribed, General Contractor, Fred C. Kirkham of Walnut Creek, who built the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church and many other public buildings, and is now contsructing the Tice Valley Grace Presbyterian Church and the new Walnut Creek office of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, will begin work.

Those interested in contributing to this worthwhile community development should contact or mail contributions to the treasurer of the Valley Art Center, Julian N. Stern, 1064 Via Roble, Lafayette, or to any member of the Permanent Art Center Building Committee ,which includes Mrs. John N. Ellis, Chairman, 3359 Springhill Rd., Lafayette, William Wilkinson, 440 Camino Sobrante, Orinda, George Hansen, 4131 Los Arabis, Lafayette, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ward, 3380 St. Mary's Rd., Lafayette.

Start Shopping Now For Living Christmas Tree

Here is how gardeners can keep busy this week:

You can shop for a living Christmas tree any time now. It will make a wonderful tubbed plant for porch or terrace between now and the holiday season.

Disbudding camellias this month will result in prize-winning blooms later on. Disbud to at least three inches apart.

The smell of burning leaves is an autumn tradition and should serve to remind the gardener that it's time to rake fallen leaves in his own garden.

Ground covers planted in fall take advantage of winter rains to establish themselves.

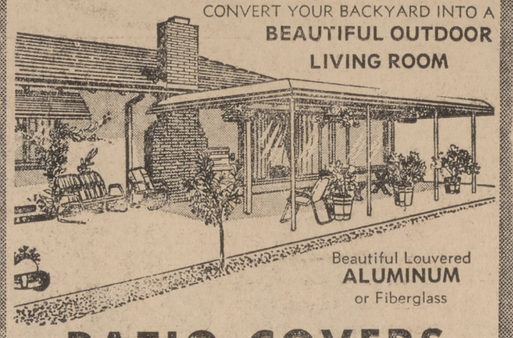

Astronomical Group Meets

The Mt. Diablo Astronomical Society met Saturday at the Diablo Valley College.

Articles of incorporation were approved and Don Charles presented highlights of the first National Astronomers' Convention.

Your Garden

It's Not Too Late To Decorate Outdoor Areas

October, you might argue, is too late to worry about outdoor living areas. But look at it this way. Is it ever too late when you live in California?

Autumn invariably brings exhilarating weather—mellow days that lead the gardener out of doors. And winter, except in isolated areas, has its share of weather when life on a deck can be far more pleasant than life inside. So let's decorate that deck now.

LET'S PLAN FOR the guest who drops in after a football game. Spot the deck with containers of chrysanthemums in full bloom and in the hues which smack of the season. And try, too, a container or two of a full-berried pyracantha in either red or orange.

The California Association of Nurserymen suggests that nandina—or heavenly bamboo if you please—is a shrub that can add a lot in any season. During October and November, its foliage turns a striking copper or even scarlet.

And mature plants are laden with clusters of colorful berries. This shrub can be tubbed and left permanently on the deck as well as planted out in the garden.

YOU CAN ADD a true California touch to your deck this fall fall and winter with tubs of dwarf citrus. Washington and Robertson navel oranges will give a fine display from fall into winter. Dwarf lemons and limes are likewise good bets.

Looking farther into your calendar of bloom, plan on tubbed camellias to lend their crisp beauty to winter decks. The willowy sasanqua varieties can be found in bloom now, while early blooming japonicas such as daikagura and debutante will not be many weeks behind.

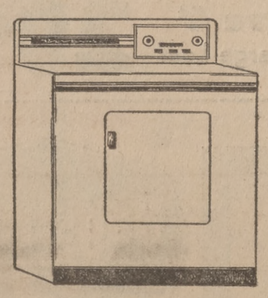

Your nurseryman can recommend varities that will stretch the camellia season out from here into spring.

WE WOULDN'T want to close this without a word for spring bulbs in pots—daffodils especially. These can be found that will come into bloom shortly after Christmas and continue to make you think that spring has arrived long before your calendar confirms it. This is one deception we can go for year in and year out.

Thousands Pour Into Broadway For Birthday

Thousands of residents poured into the Broadway Shopping Center this week to take advantage of Broadway's Birthday Sale, according to Betty Batesole, member of the Broadway Merchant's Association Birthday Committee.

Mrs. Batesole noted that merchants of the center plan the birthday party all year long and this is the biggest event of the year at the center.

In addition to the sales featured by stores in the center, Mrs. Batesole commented, there will be a multitude of other events to make this the best birthday celebration ever held at the center.

Included in the birthday celebration are a Needle in the Haystack contest, a concert by the famous Guckenheimer Sour-kraut German Band and refreshments will be served free of charge in the center.

The traditional birthday cake will also be distributed free of charge to visitors, Mrs. Batesole stated.

The top prize in the Needle in the Haystack contest is a television set and there will be a present given away every minute of the contest, she continued.

The Guckenheimer band will appear at the center Friday from 7 to 9 p.m. and the refreshments will be passed out as the band plays, she asserted.

The Needle in the Haystack event will be October 23 and 24 and tickets to participate in the event will be handed out at all participating stores, Mrs. Batesole concluded.

Broadway Shops Open 2 Nights

Stores in the Broadway Shopping Center are open two nights a week every week, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Stores in the center are open on Monday and Friday nights so that the whole family will have plenty of time to go shopping, Webster added.

Furthermore, Webster noted, parking is easy in Broadway Shopping Center, and everything is convenient to your automobile.

So why not avoid that "Saturday afternoon rush" and take advantage of the two nights the Broadway Shopping Center is open.

THE FAMOUS SOUR-KRAUT Band will play at the Broadway Shopping Center from 7 to 9 p.m. Tonight as part of the Broadway Shopping Center Birthday Party. During the "concert" free refreshments an dtraditional cake will be distributed to visitors, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

'Concert' Will Be Featured

The Birthday Party to end all birthday parties is now being celebrated in the Broadway Shopping Center, Walnut Creek, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants association.

Friday night refreshments will be served free of charge at three Broadway locations and the Guckenheimer Sour-Kraut band will play at the center from 7 to 9.

Along with the refreshments, Webster noted, traditional birthday cake will be served to all visitors.

MEET THEM ONE by one—all dedicated to the principle that German folk-music is fun-music. The result: perpetuation (and perpetration) of sharp flats and flat sharps squawking forth from ill-fitting uniforms that obviously were classified as army surplus shortly after the Franco-Prussian War. With these forewarnings meet:

Fritz Guckenheimer—conductor and clarinet, Richard Gump, president of the famous Gump's store in San Francisco; serious composer, musician, painter, lecturer and organizer of the Guckenheimer Band.

Johann Sebastian Schmidtz III, clarinet, and Guckenheimer Band manager, is Paul Faria, interior designer of Gump's.

Otto Schmits—Clarinet, is more formally known as Robert Entriken, executive in San Francisco for Fireman's Fund.

Rudi Schmitt—Cornet, is Robert McDonnell who has worked under many conductors as he is a fireman on passenger trains for Southern Pacific Railroad.

Wolfgang Shwett — Cornet, is Dean Coleman, an inspector for the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau in Oakland, who is also a brass teacher in his spare time.

Ernest Schmid—Flugelhorn, is Richard Hiatt, a well-known architect—who once played viola at an early age with the San Francisco Symphony.

Ludwig Schmitz—Trombone, is in real life George "Cookie" Conroy whose 285 pounds is used to advantage by Crown-Zellerbach Paper Corporation testing the tensile strength of paper tissue.

Heinrich Schwerdt — tuba, is Bob Kellogg. He plays hot, cool, symphonic and German tuba, in addition to the operation of two music stores.

Hugo Schmid—drum, is George Lichty, the nationally-famous cartoonist of "Grin and Bear It."

How did it all begin?

One day in 1948 Richard Gump and some other Sausalito-itesa were lamenting the fact that the celebration of Christmas was approaching total commercialization, so perhaps some good, old-fashioned unspoiled Christmas music would help remedy the situation.

Would they go carolling through the precipitous hills and streets of Sausalito? No, they would not; they decided it had all been done far better than their untrained voices could do it.

INSTEAD THEY formed a small German-village-band and played on street corners. The kick they got out of playing this fractured Teutonic music seemed contagious to all listeners.

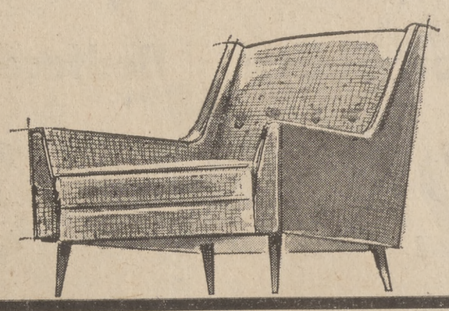

They were surprised to find everyone from two year olds through teen-agers to grandmas bouncing to their beat. "It seems to brighten the spirits so much that maybe we'll take the place of Miltown;" says Flugelhorn-player Hiatt, who's been analyzed five times.

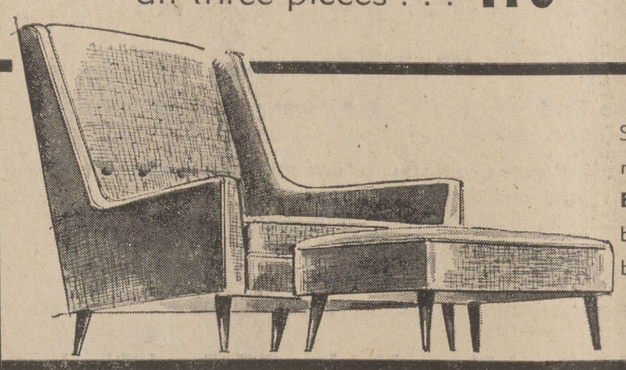

As "Cookie" Conroy said (their most rotund member), "All these wine festivals! Haven't they got a beer festival?"

SERIOUSLY, THEY'VE played for many charities and society round-ups and have always made a hit in their peculiar way.

Gift Wrapping Will Be Taught At Capwell's

By popular demand, Capwell's will again present its Tie-Tie Gift Wrapping Demonstrations, featuring Miss Bette Jeanne Hoover, nationally known packaging stylist for the Chicago Printed String Company, according to John Tague, manager of the Walnut Creek store.

Tague said Miss Hoover will conduct her program at the local Capwell's store from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Friday in the stationery department on the street floor.

HE EXPLAINED the demonstrations will be repeated for late shoppers between 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. Friday in the training room on the second floor.

Capwell's Tie-Tie program is especially designed for those people who carefully save the bows from last year's Christmas gifts, both because they are too pretty to throw away, and because they plan to reuse them, according to Tague.

Hundreds Saving Tickets For 'Needle in Haystack'

Hundreds of people are now saving tickets given out by Broadway stores for the Needle in the Haystack contest to be held at the Broadway Shopping Center, October 23 and October 24, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Visitors to the Broadway Birthday celebration will get an added bonus when they dig out special needles in a giant haystack which will be located in front of the Lucky Food Store in Broadway, Webster said.

The Needle in a Haystack will be October 23 and 24, but tickets for the event will be available at all Broadway stores during the entire birthday celebration, Webster said.

Only visitors to the celebration who are over 16 years of age will be eligible to play the fascinating game, Webster noted.

"There will be a prize given away every minute and the top prize will be a television set," Webster declared.

The Broadway Birthday party will also feature a performance by the famous Guckenheimer Sauerkraut German Concert Band on Friday from 7 to 9 p.m., and traditional birthday cake and refreshments will be served free of charge during the concert.

Need a Bath? Check Your Sun Ads!

Mrs. Charles Nimmo of 710 Los Palos Drive, Lafayette, sold complete bathroom facilities with a single insertion in The Sun classified ad page.

A Royal portable typewriter was sold by Mrs. Dorothy Martinez of 841 Santa Maria Way, Lafayette, and a motor scooter, in "good condition" offered by F. C. Holbrook of 1085 Orchard Road, Lafayette, went in a hurry with a Sun classified.

These and hundreds of other "success stories" are possible with only one ad when the classified pages are read carefully EVERY WEEK by thousands of readers.

Sun classifieds are read each Wednesday by folks in 38,000 central county homes, when The Sun Shopping News is circulated.

They automatically for no extra cost go into the Lafayette Sun, Walnut Creek Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun and Orinda Sun, read each week by thousands more.

The Sun is the only area paper which offers the "5-in-1" treatment.

And the results are amazing.

School CD Groups Plan Big Meeting

The Contra Costa County School Administrators' civil defense committee will meet Wednesday, from 9:30 to 11 a.m. in the Student Activities Building, Diablo Valley College, Golf Links Road, Concord.

Ward Cockerton is chairman of the CD Committee and fire training coordinator for the Junior Colege District.

This committee is composed of superintendents of the school districts or their civil defense coordinators, and representatives of private and parochial schools.

The committee was organized in 1955 to pool information as to what is being done in civil defense in the schools and to work out problems jointly so that there may be a close unity in planning.

City Civil Defense directors are invited to attend this meeting in order to coordinate the school civil defense plans with the community civil defense plans.

Will H. Perry, Jr., director of the Contra Costa County Office of Civil Defense and Disaster, and members of his staff work with this committee in an advisory capacity.

The County Superintendent of Schools, represented by Charles Ferrell, assists in the printing and mailing of notices, minutes of meetings, etc.

At the meeting, Karl Mahler, executive director of the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter of the Red Cross, will discuss the use of school buildings in natural disasters.

The committee appointed last spring to work on the problem of the legal implications of walk-home and other civil defense drills will make its report.

A progres repor tof the School Shelter Survey will be made by Perry. The new film "Fallout — When and How to Protect Yourself Against it" will be shown. The group will discuss the planning of the Take Cover program.

Donovan is Ass'n Speaker

Richard Donovan, manager of the Bank of America's Pleasant Hill Branch spoke at the General Contractors Association meeting, yesterday at Mike Lynn's.

Donovan's topic, "The Outlook in Housing and Home Finance" covered current conditions of the housing market in Contra Costa County and the availability and costs of fund for mortgage loans.

PRETTY VIRGINIA DYER of Petar's Restaurant takes her turn at trying to find a needle in a haystack. Tickets are now available at the Broadway Shopping Center for the event to be held October 23 and October 24 at the Walnut Creek shopping area. There will be a prize a minute given away during the event, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Generous People Supply Eager Beavers' Shop

There are thrift shops and thrift shops.

The Eager Beavers' at 3437 Mt. Diablo Blvd. in Lafayette think theirs is pretty special.

AS SO MANY OF our customers say, "It is just like a regular store. So attractive and everything in such good order. And the prices are so fabulously low."

Naturally, this is music to our ears because a lot of hard work goes into making it that way. We are continually striving to make it even better.

We are lucky too. People are so generous in giving us such nice things for our merchandise.

EVEN OUR customers come in to shop one week and the next time bring us items that they think we can use. It's an extraordinary round-robin of friendly community feeling.

This sort of thing seldom makes the headlines. (It's the bad guys, tragedies and crimes that seem to make the most fascinating reading).

But actually, it is the good deeds here and there that makes the world a betetr place to live in.

Realty Firm Opens Office

The Maxfield Company real estate firm has opened at 124 N. Hartz Avenue, Danville, under the ownership of Bob Maxfield, it was announced.

The Maxfield Company also has an office in Piedmont.

Here's How to Have Fun: Play Needle in Haystack

Needle in the haystack, one of the key attractions of the Broadway Birthday party, is one of the most fascinating and rewarding games ever to be brought to the central county area, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

The game is fun and it's easy to play, Webster explained.

Here's how it works:

Thousands of dulled needles will be placed in a haystack. Any person who pulls out a needle, which changes color when it is dipped into a special solution, wins a prize and there will be a prize a minute, Webster added.

The top prize will be a television set and there will be thousands of other fine prizes, Webster commented.

"After the person with the needle, which has changed color, steps over to the Broadway Board of Gifts, they dip into the treasure chest and pull out a sealed envelop.

"In it will be instructions indicating the prize and what store it is in," Webster noted.

"It's easy and fun, tickets to participate in the Broadway Needle in the Haystack are available at all participating stores.

"Don't forget tickets will be available all during the Broadway Birthday celebration. The needle in a haystack event will be in full swing October 23 and October 24," Webster concluded.

EBMUD Fluoridation Vote Set by District's Board

An election to determine whether East Bay Municipal Utility District water is to be fluoridated will be scheduled for June 1960.

The board of directors of East Bay Municipal Utility District at its regular meeting recently announced its intent to proceed with the steps necessary to schedule an election at the June 1960 primaries on the question of fluoridation within the terms of Senate Bill No. 865.

SB 865 is an amendment to the public utilities code which authorizes a municipal utility district to add fluorine or fluorine compounds to the water supply of the district, only if a majority of the voters of a district voting upon the proposition have voted in favor of the addition of fluorine or fluorine compounds.

"This action," President Louis J. Breuner said, "does not represent a change in the policy or attitude of the board of directors of EBMUD toward fluoridation. EBMUD has, and will continue to maintain a neutral position, since we feel this is a matter the voters should decide."

"Since opinions on the merits of fluoridation are so divergent, it seems only fair to allow the people who will be drinking fluoridated water the chance to decide whether they want it." This can, of course, best be determined by placing the matter before the voters, and this will be done at the June 1960 election," Breuner concluded.

Import Week To Highlight Foreign Cars

A display of foreign cars on the parking area adjacent to the store will highlight Capwell's Walnut Creek annual Import Week, tomorrow through, October 17.

The cars, including Volkswagen, Volvo, Fiat, MG, Jaguar, Renault and Hillman, will be on display courtesy of local automobile dealers.

As a special feature for this year's Import Week, four Airlines will sponsor appearances of their personnel in a Street Floor 'Airlines Booth.'

Airlines included are Western, Monday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.; Alitalia-Italian, Thursday from 7 to 8:30 p.m.; Varig-Brazilian, next October 17 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Senior Citizens Plan Visit To San Simeon Site

Some of the members of the Lafayette Senior Club have combined forces with the Walnut Creek and Alamo clubs to arrange a trip to visit the San Simeon Castle.

This is the first overnight trip that they have undertaken and they are looking forward to it with great anticipation.

RESERVATIONS have been made for the chartered bus to leave the Veterans Hall at 12:30 p.m. on November 2. There will be a leisurely drive down to Asilomar where they will spend the night.

The next day they will take the beautiful coast-drive to San Simeon and see the treasure trove of the castle, and return to Asilomar for a god night's rest before starting the homeward trek on November 4.

The total cost per person will be $24.

There may be some extra reservations in case, some senior person (not necessarily a club member) might like to go along.

If interested, please phone the trip chairman, Mal Neilsen, AT 3-8619 or Mae Duncan, AT 4-4561, for further information.

Diablo Artists Form Society and Alliance

The Diablo Pageant of Arts Society and its Alliance were formed this month " . . . cope with the present, and anticipated future growth," it was announced.

New by-laws for the groups were presented by Wiliam J. Marshall in the absence of by-laws committee chairman Ruth Wallis.

Advisers to the committee were John Nejedly, Judge Betsy Fitzgeral Rahn, and Evadne Wenker.

THE DIABLO PAGEANT of Arts Society will promote, stimulate and assist all the Arts, produce an annual arts pageant and foster the establishment and support of a permanent art center.

Public support and money will be required to accomplish the objectives of the society so many types of supporting memberships will be solicted, according to membership committee chairman Mrs. Douglas Page and co-chairman Mrs. Baya Rocklin.

Memberships are in the following categories: individuals $2 — family $5 — sustaining $10 — supporting $25 — patron $100 — all per year.

A newly formed alliance to the society headed by Georgia Sanders, is responsible for fund-raising, and a number of events will be planned through the year, she said.

THE EXECUTIVE committee and board of directors of the society are president Forrest Engelhart of Clayton, executive vice president Evadne Wenker of Alamo; first vice president William J. Marshall of Orinda; second vice president Connie Sterne of Walnut Creek.

Corresponding secretary is Doris Crouch, recording secretary Cigi McLain; treasurer Louis Roseman.

The Board of Directors includes Doctor D. S. Harris of Alamo; Mrs. Douglas Page of Walnut Creek; Don Yuen of Oakland and Ruth Wallis of Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Wenker said permanent headquarters will be at 1533 Main Street, Walnut Creek.

Sponsors of the society will be invited to an opening of the new headquarters as soon as interior decorator Barbara Winchester and her committee have completed decorations.

The building has been leased from Mr. and Mrs. Naloola Walt of the Clothes Horse.

Society services to the area will include the rental of paintings and objects of art — and if volunteers are available, forthcoming — an information center regarding art and artists.

Realtors to Big State Convention

Several officers and members of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board attended the 55th annual convention of the California Real Estate Association, held in Los Angeles this week.

More than 4500 realtors from 164 real estate boards attended. One of the speakers, Harold Kennedy, county counsel of Los Angeles County, spoke on the danger of excessive taxation and Federal structure.

The local members who attended are as follows:

Harlan Geldermann, Charles Bailey, Vany Knerr, Ray McCoy, Peter Vacco, M. H. Binker, all state directors.

Cub Scout Adult Leaders Gather For DVC Pow Wow

Cub Scout leaders, men and women, from all over Contra Costa County, Berkeley and Albany, will take part in a Pow Wow at the Diablo Valley College, Pleasant Hill, tomorrow according to an announcement made today by John S. Youmans, director of training of Mt. Diablo Council.

Under the direction of Dr. Robert B. Jackson and Mrs. Leslie Lopez, both of Concord, a Pow Wow Committee has been moving forward with preparations for several weeks.

WILLIAM HODGES, Richmond, leadership training chairman of the San Pablo Bay district, has arranged for a noon "Blue and Gold" diner as a demonstration of the typical Cub Pack observance of Boy Scout Week in February.

The meal will be served by the Relief Society Women of the Pleasant Hill Latter Day Saints Church.

Instruction at the Pow Wow will be given in four sections — games, handicraft, stunts — skits — ceremonies and pack administration.

IN THE GAMES section Cub leaders spend two hours in the morning, and another two hours in the afternoon learning how to play and direct quiet indoor games, gathering time games, tricks and puzzles, relay races, ing and dual contests. This section will be directed by Mrs. Joyce Ferrante and Mrs. Nina Ferrando, of the Concord district.

The stunts — skits — ceremonies section is planned to teach adults how to capture the imagination of boys; how to bring to life the Cub Scouting ideals; how to make simple adventure more meaningful — with more fun. John Shaw, of Martinez, is chairman of this section. He is being assisted by Mrs. Thelma Wheeler.

Handicrafts will be taught by experienced leaders, directed by Lee Tardiville and Mrs. Leona McFarland, of Pittsburg, in the Delta district.

THE PACK administration section brings out new ideas for the planning of programs, using the abilities of parents, the organization of the dens and packs. These ideas, which have been found successful, are to be presented by George Sanko, of Lafayette, in the Meridian district.

One of the traditional features of a Pow Wow is the midway, where all sorts of carnival-type games are presented, each by a difefrent Cub pack, as an "ideas fair" of different types of games. There are gay banners and noisy barkers to carry out the carnival theme. The Midway is being directed by the Berkeley - Albany district, with Mrs. Sam Smith, chairman.

Each of the 167 Cub Packs of Mt. Diablo Council has been invited to enroll leaders in each of the four Pow Wow sections, with the idea of pooling their information in subsequent meetings of their own pack officers.

Enrollment is being submitted before October 1 0to the council office, at 2040 4th Street, Berkeley, by the pack committee chairmen.

Central County Commuters Plan Annual Meeting

Announcement of the annual meeting of the Contra Costa County Commuters Association was made today by the president, Dudley W. Thickens of Lafayette.

The meeting will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Acalanes High School, and is open to all interested in commutation, highway conditions and rapid transit.

IMPORTANCE OF rapid transit to Contra Costa County will be discussed by B. R. Stokes, director of information of the five county Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

He will endeavor to furnish any information desired by those attending the meeting in regard to the proposed rapid transit operation in Contra Costa County, progress of the engineering studies for the system and the tentative schedule of construction of the five county system in event of approval of a bond issue which is expected to be presented to the voters next year.

Election of new directors will also be conducted at the meeting.

NOMINEES INCLUDE Dave Lewis and Bruce Rosenblatt from Orinda, Harry Campbell, Charles Kauzer, Ted McManus and Alfred Fuller from the Lafayette-Walnut Creek area and Earl Wayne and Earl Baughman from the Concord-Four Corners area.

Association president Thickens stated a cordial invitation to attend is extended both to commuters and others interested in commuting and rapid transit.

Contractors Very Happy

George Concannon of Walnut Creek, president of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County said the "nail pounding contest" booth in the exhibitors tent at the Walnut Festival was a success.

Concannon commended the public relations committee, headed by Johnson Clark of Lafayette.

DVC Hit 4800 Enrollment Mark

The Contra Costa Junior College District, as anticipated in mid-summer, has enrolled more than 8000 full and part-time students for fall semester studies.

The actual figure — 8,233 as of September 25 — represents an additional 1000 students or a district-wide increase of 14 per cent above last fall.

As in prior years, there are more part-time than full time students, although this year they are more evenly balanced with only slightly more than half enrolled as part-time students.

Both of the District's colleges reflect substantial gains. Diablo Valley College near Concord is the larger with a total 4,805 enrolled of which 1,928 are full-time day students. Contra Costa College, San Pablo, has a total 3,428 students of which 1,820 are registered in day or full-time programs.

Nurses Hear Armand Gentile

The Catholic Nurses of Contra Costa County met yesterday in St. Isidore's Hall, La Gonda Road, Danville.

Mrs. Robert Vincent, newly elected president, introduced the guest speaker, Armand Gentile, local teacher.

$5 Million Effort Would Aid CD Shelters - Perry

Will H. Perry Jr., director of the Contra Costa County Office of Civil Defense and Disaster, announced the final results of the radioactive fallout shelter survey in the county have been submitted.

The survey to determine the potential shelter spaces in existing buildings was conducted during the past six months by the firm of Robert E. Alexander, FAIA & Associates, under contract with the Federal Office of Civil and Defense Mobilizaation.

It was the first to be completed of four such surveys throughout the nation.

PERRY SAID this is only the first step of the survey. Specific findings will be developed from this mass of amterial which fills a five-drawer filing cabinet.

The report reveals that 72,034 existing structures might yield potential shelter spaces.

Upon further study of this total number was reduced to 2529 structures which might provide shelter space of category E or better.

Structures were graded from A affording the best protection, to F, the poorest. Each of these 2529 buildings was inspected in the field.

OVER 80 PER cent of the potential shelter spaces were in commercial, industrial or public use. Only 7 per cent were found in existing C or better category, and only 12 per cent after improvement.

The average cost of improving shielding and increasing capacity was about $18.50 per improved space.

The report indicates that shelter space exists in the area for 116 per cent of the daytime and 102 per cent of the night time population.

After an improvement program costing $5,042,452 the study shows a surplus of 37,659 spaces during the day and 6555 spaces at night time and on weekends, but most of the space would provide low-grade protection.

THE ABOVE figures are contained in the generalized report. Findings of the survey are given in cumulative results in a breakdown of 32 districts.

Further study must be made to pinpoint the exact location of the 2529 buildings offering potential shelter space, to determine their relation to the population.

If these structures are in commercial or industrial areas, it must be found out if it is feasible to expend money for their improvement.

Perry cited the example of an industrial plant that might have capabilities of sheltering 5000 people, but if the 5000 people could not get there within a reasonable time, that facility must be discounted.

PERRY SAID the first emphasis of the restudy of each data sheet will be placed on structures giving large congregate potentials, such as basements of public buildings, schools, industries, and commercial facilities.

Perry said he hopes to have authorization from OCDM to disclose to the owners of the properties inspected by the shelter group the data regarding the shelter potential of their structures.

But he emphasized that no one will be allowed to see the data sheets on any structure, except on authorization of the owner of that particular structure.

AAUW Picks Counseling As Topic

Dr. Leland Medsker of the University of California will moderate a panel on college counseling, offered by the Walnut Creek Branch, AAUW, October 22 at 8 p.m. at Las Lomas High School.

Panel members will be Dr. Harry A. Grace, dean of students of the new state college, Alameda County; Charles Chapman, dean of student personnel, Diablo Valley College; and Dean of student personnel, Diablo Valley College; and Dean Erhard Rostlund of the University of California. This meeting is open to the public.

A safety meeting will be held in the Walnut Creek Judicial Court, 1690 Locust Street, at 8 p.m. on Wednesday.

Officer Jack Francis of the Walnut Creek Police Department will talk on the driver improvement school.

The meeting is sponsored by the social and economic issues section of the Walnut Creek Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Mrs. Francis Clune is chairman.
